Schuman Halted; De Gaulle's Men Want Election

PARIS (AP)—Premier-designate Robert Schuman today abandoned his attempt to form a new French government.

The leader of the middle-of-the-road Mouvement Republicain Populaire had labored since Monday night in an effort to lure reluctant politicians into a government for which many foresaw nothing but a short, troubled life.

Followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle expressed hope the Schuman failure will force a general election.

De Gaulle's supporters appear certain that if Parliament is forced to call an election their Rightist Rassemblement du Peuple Français (R.P.F.), would win a near majority. Neither the R.P.F. nor the Communists have taken part in French third force middle-of-the-road governments.

that anyone would be able to form a government at the present time. This presented France with the problem of how to proceed with its present legislature.

UNEXPECTED MOVE

Final blow to Schuman's efforts came with what lobby circles describe as an astute manoeuvre by De Gaulle supporters.

Schuman offered the key post of Minister of the Interior to François Mitterand, member of the Democratic and Socialist Resistance Union, a group largely supporting De Gaulle.

The union agreed to accept only if the government would agree to hold departmental council elections. A bill to postpone them is pending. Schuman was believed to have refused.

COUNT ON MAJORITY

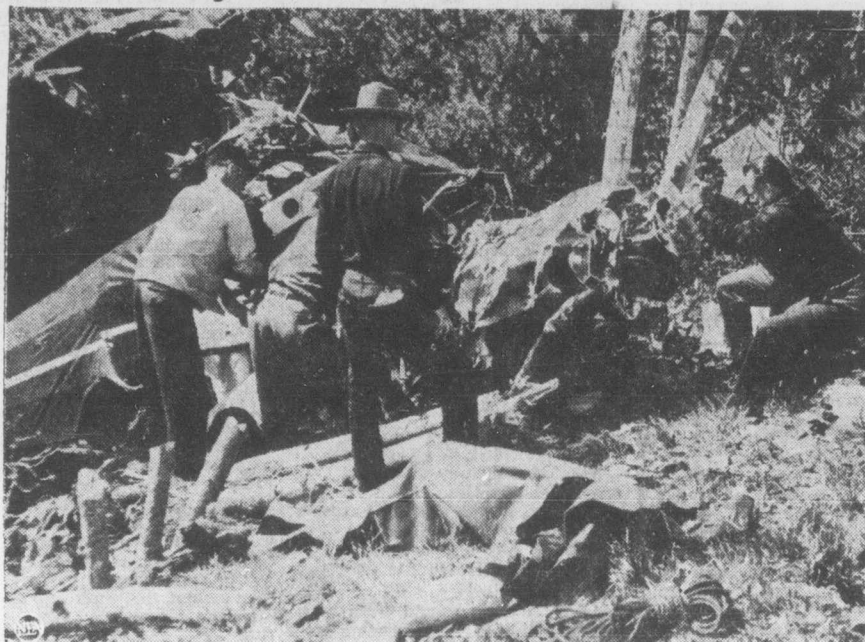

De Gaulle's believe they would have won a heavy majority in these council elections—similar to civic elections throughout France—and in so doing would have been able to force a general election.

Schuman announced his decision to quit to President Vincent Auriol after futile negotiations with other party leaders on construction of a workable coalition.

Despite his endorsement by the National Assembly Tuesday—by the margin of 11 votes—Schuman was unable to draw enough parliamentary support to build a cabinet.

British Jets, U.S. Bombers Tangle In Practice Battle

LONDON (AP)—Meteor jet fighters of the R.A.F. tangled with United States Superfortresses in a mock battle 30,000 feet over the Thames Estuary today.

It was the beginning of the biggest test of the United Kingdom's air defences since the Battle of Britain eight years ago. Ninety U.S. Superfortresses and hundreds of R.A.F. medium and heavy bombers are taking part in simulated attacks against targets in the Midlands, South eastern and Southern England.

The "raiding" force is primed for a four-day mock air war. Preparations were carried out under the strictest secrecy. The whereabouts of the attackers and where they would strike were unknown to ground defenders. The bombers had special permission to fly over the Netherlands, Belgium and France before turning in toward Britain for the attack.

Exactly nine years ago, Britain and France declared war on Hitler's Germany, which had invaded Poland. A year later the Battle of Britain developed.

Crew Of Superfort Bails Out During Mock Air Battle

LONDON (CP)—The U.S. air force announced tonight a U.S. Superfortress taking part in the mock air battle testing Britain's defences was abandoned by its crew after developing engine trouble over the Netherlands.

The British air ministry announced later that 10 crew members had been picked up after parachuting from the plane. A B-29 normally carries a crew of 11.

One of the men said fire broke out in one of the wings and it had seemed impossible to reach England. For 30 minutes the crew attempted to put out the flames, he said. Then they took to parachutes. The plane plummeted into the Western Scheldt (Scheldt) estuary.

The British air ministry had earlier reported that all but the pilot and wireless operator had bailed out and that the plane was limping back to England.

Many Feared Dead In Hongkong Crash

HONGKONG (Reuter)—The Canton-Kowloon express, carrying more than 1,000 passengers, was derailed near the Hongkong border today. There were at least 100 casualties, including an unestimated number of dead.

The crash occurred a few miles from the border on the Chinese side. The express had 11 coaches.

Wiegner En Route To Peace River

Gustav A. Wiegner, 24-year-old Dayton, Ohio, resident, was taken to Vancouver on last night's midnight boat on the start of his journey to the Peace River country to stand trial in connection with the recent Alaska Highway slaying of John McComas, 52, also of Dayton.

Sub-inspector J. G. Duncan arrived from the north country yesterday to take charge of Wiegner for the trip to Fort St. John, where accused's preliminary hearing will take place shortly.

Also making the journey are Louise McComas, 13-year-old daughter of the slain man; Kenneth C. Fritzer, prosecuting attorney, Kimball County, Neb., and his wife.

While in Victoria the accused was held in the city lock-up.

LATEST

191 Cases Of Polio

EDMONTON (CP)—Alberta's 1948 poliomyelitis toll climbed to 191 today with five new cases reported to the provincial health department. The number of deaths from the crippling disease remained at 10.

Cautioned On Jobs

REGINA (CP)—A warning to prairie veterans against moving to the Pacific Coast in search of employment has been issued by R. F. T. Greer, district administrator, Department of Veterans' Affairs, Winnipeg. Each should be "assured of a job when he gets there."

Chinese May Vote

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver's Chinese population may get the civic franchise. The City Council today expressed itself as favoring their application for a voice in civic affairs, and instructed delegates to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention to support the move.

Hold-up Suspect

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 31-year-old waiter today was held by police as a suspect in the $3,000 robbery at the Broadway branch of the Bank of Commerce here Aug. 23. He was arrested in a suburban Lulu Island shack late Thursday, along with a 24-year-old waitress, reported to be his common-law wife. The woman was released after investigation.

Wider Rescue Plans

HALIFAX (CP)—Military officials in charge of rescue operations all the way from the equator to the North Pole began a two-day conference here today. The Canadian and United States representatives are discussing joint operations, policy, communications and facilities.

Pacific Stevedores Told To Prepare For Struggle To Survive

By CANADIAN PRESS

Almost 40,000 workers are idle as crippling strikes on both the United States east and west coasts hit at transportation.

Up and down the Pacific coast shipping is at a standstill in a strike that has idled about 12,000 dock workers and 16,000 seamen.

The shipping strike—with wages the main stumbling block—got under way Thursday when an 80-day injunction invoked under the Taft-Hartley law ran out.

Harry Bridges, C.I.O. International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union leader, said there would be no negotiations until assurance was received the companies would bargain in good faith. He told members to be prepared for a four-to-six month stoppage.

EXPORTS CUT DOWN

Across the U.S. effects of the tie-up were felt as railroads halted shipment of most export freight to the coast, and some exporting manufacturers cut production.

The Waterfront Employees' Association and the Pacific American Shipowners' Association announced they no longer would deal with any union whose officers refused to file non-Communist affidavits with the National Labor Relations Board. Bridges has refused to make such an affidavit, but said he was willing to refer the question to the union membership.

ASK 25 CENTS

In New York it is the truckers, striking for wage increases—originally 50 cents but now trimmed to 25 cents an hour. More than 10,000 drivers and helpers, half the city's force, are idle and the number is mounting. No hope is seen for settlement before next Tuesday at the earliest. The disputing parties are not scheduled to meet until then.

Many retail outlets remained cut off from regular supply channels, and food store representatives said soaring prices are most likely to result.

Skirted By Typhoon

HONGKONG (AP)—Gusts of wind up to 60 miles an hour today hit this British colony as the typhoon that brushed northern Luzon veered toward the heavily-populated Kwangtung province on the South China coast.

The Royal Observatory reported the typhoon about 130 miles east of Hongkong, moving slowly northwest. The observatory said the storm seemed to be spending its force.

Benes, Twice President Of Czechs, Co-Founder, Dies

PRAGUE (CP)—Eduard Benes, who helped found Czechoslovakia and was twice its President, died today. He was 64.

The statesman who rose to world acclaim from ranks of the peasants was stricken early Tuesday and had been unconscious since. Coughing spasms weakened his tired old fighting heart, which finally gave way. He died at his country home at Sezimovo at 6:10 p.m.

Dr. Benes had a stroke a year ago. His arteries had hardened.

His last year of life was doubly saddened by the coup through which Communists seized power in his Republic and by the death plunge soon afterward of Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk. The Foreign Minister was the son of Dr. Thomas Masaryk, with whom Benes helped to form the Czechoslovak republic in 1918.

RESIGNED IN JUNE

Sick and disheartened, Benes resigned as President last June 7 rather than sign the new constitution the Communists had drafted. Klement Gottwald, the Communist he had appointed premier, succeeded him.

Mrs. Benes was with him when death came. She had been constantly at his side during his fatal illness.

Fails To Head New French Cabinet

Shown talking with reporters above is Robert Schuman, who today abandoned task of forming a new government for France. Carrying on a series of interviews with party leaders, he had just arrived at the Quai d'Orsay.

Germans Say Reds Making Plans To Remove Blockade

BERLIN (AP)—German reports today said the Russians are making technical arrangements for lifting the 72-day-old blockade of Berlin.

The British-licensed German press service said the director of German railways in the Soviet Zone had been summoned by Russian transport authorities to be given instructions for these arrangements. This report could not be confirmed in any official quarter.

A U.S. transport official said there had been no indication from the Russians as to when they intended to reopen the rail lifeline to Berlin from Helmstedt and the east-west canal system. The trains were stopped by the Russians June 24 because of "technical difficulties." Canal traffic was stopped a short time later.

"It is unlikely," the American official said, "that they will do so (reopen the lines) until they are satisfied with the results of the discussions here and in Moscow."

"Nor will they get any coal or iron trains from the Ruhr to feed their zone's industry until they lift the blockade and restore normal communications to our satisfaction."

The four military governors arranged another session today on this divided city's problems.

Battle Builds Up In T.L.C. On Seamen's Union Issue

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian labor's biggest internal revolt in years today spearheaded a fight over Communism in the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Top officers of 23 of the T.L.C.'s most powerful unions are pledged to throw their weight into a drive to clean house of T.L.C. Communists.

But Percy Bengough, Congress president, said he doesn't take the move "very seriously." He said in an interview he thought its leaders are "mesmerizing themselves into delusions about their importance."

As the officers organized themselves into a permanent anti-Communist bloc, these possibilities emerged:

1. Removal from the T.L.C. of the turbulent Canadian Seamen's

Union, alleged to be dominated by Reds.

2. The conceivable defeat of Mr. Bengough and those executive members who have been actively supporting his backing of the C.S.U. in the Lake shipping strike.

3. Replacement of the C.S.U. by the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) as the Congress' marine affiliate. The S.I.U. this week absorbed the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union, arch-enemy of the C.S.U. on the Great Lakes.

These developments could come about at the October meeting of the Congress in Victoria if the high officers who banded themselves together Thursday receive the backing of the general membership of their unions, which are for the most part actively anti-Communist.

Arson Definite In Hilliers Fire

Origin of the fire which destroyed the $22,000 public school at Hilliers Aug. 1 was today attributed to arson by R. J. Holliday, assistant fire marshal.

The announcement came after Holliday, who has been investigating the blaze along with the attempted burning of a small church at nearby Coombs, discovered a "fire-set" under a lean-to at the rear of the Hilliers Community Hall.

A bundle of eight matches bound by a piece of fleece to a slow-burning fuse, was found near a bundle of sacks believed soaked in gasoline. The set failed to ignite.

Car Driving Course For Grade 11 Students To Be Started This Year

Grade 11 students in British Columbia high schools will receive courses in car driving as part of a government program to improve standards and reduce accident and damage toll on the highways.

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer and Education Minister W. T. Straith said today 300 students in selected high schools of the province will be given the course during the coming school term.

It will be given on an experimental basis at first, and will be so designed to allow for extension from year to year.

The two ministers said in a joint statement that the government has been giving consideration for some time to the plan which has been inaugurated in many high schools of the United States.

The students will be given classroom instruction on driving technique and responsibilities, also an adequate period of behind-the-wheel driving with qualified instructors.

A committee is being set up of representatives of the Department of Education and the Motor Vehicle Branch of the Attorney-General's department, to work out details of the plan.

The committee will consult local authorities interested in safety measures, such as the traffic and safety councils and the B.C. Automobile Association.

Work will be started soon and the scheme will be introduced as soon as final arrangements are made.

The ministers stated further: "Experience has shown that poorly trained young drivers have a bad accident record, and it is felt that if the experiment is successful, as we feel it will be, and can be extended from year to year, it will make for a properly trained generation of young drivers, and will constitute our best promise of a lower accident rate in the future."

Canada Overtaking Congo As Producer Of Uranium

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian scientists generally agree Canada is gradually overtaking the Belgian Congo as the world's greatest producer of uranium ore.

One of these scientists is 47-year-old Arvid Thunae, Norwegian-born engineer who has been "knocking around in the mining game" for the last 24 years.

Thunae is in a unique position to know. As chief of the radioactivity division of the government's mines bureau, he computes between Ottawa and Eldorado—the government's vast uranium enterprise in the Northwest Territories.

BRIGHT FUTURE

Returning from his fifth 6,000-mile trip to Great Bear Lake, the uranium expert, without quoting "grades, production or processes," said he is fully satisfied that Canada is "on the right road to a bright atomic future."

"Much has yet to be done, but things are thoroughly successful," he said.

How thoroughly these "things" are is a top-level secret, but Thunae agrees with Atomic Energy Control Board scientists in Ottawa that it is quite possible Canada already has exceeded the Congo's known uranium production.

He is certain, too, that Canada is ahead of Russia in production of uranium ore—an essential in the manufacture of atomic bombs.

Besides the Bohemia mines which went into Russian hands when Czechoslovakia turned to a Communist government, the Soviet now is known to be working some deposits in Saxony, Germany, and in Russian Turkistan, bordering between China and India.

But the Russian holdings are believed to be small in comparison with the Belgian Congo and Canadian deposits.

How the Congo came into its prime position goes back some 30 years, with discovery of extensive radium deposits. Where there is radium, there is certain to be uranium. In fact uranium is radium decomposing in stages until it turns into lead.

Not until 1931 did Canada get to know her big radium deposits, located where Eldorado now stands. That area still is Canada's greatest uranium ore source.

Vancouver Branch Plan Of Local Group

The B.C. Retired Civil Servants' Association plans on organizing a branch of the organization in Vancouver.

A. S. Tyrer, president, and James Morton, secretary, will undertake the job on a trip to the mainland in the near future.

The association will ask the provincial government to announce a decision on the association's request that its members be given medical aid and hospitalization on the same conditions given to old-age pensioners.

No Canvassing For Hospital Premiums

Don't pay government hospital insurance premiums to anyone calling at your house, officials of the new service advise.

Reports have been received that householders have paid money out to house canvassers here and in Vancouver, but they were not government agents who got the money.

Premiums must be paid either in person at the local offices of the insurance service, or by mail.

Injured When Hit By Log
PORT ALBERNI—Hit by a log while working at Sarita River Camp, Frank Watts, an employee of Bloedel, Stewart & Welch Ltd., was taken to the West Coast General Hospital here suffering from head injuries. His condition was reported to be improving.

Italian Peace Plan To Be Discussed By World Congress

ROME (CP)—An Italian plan for immediate world confederation is expected to be discussed at the Congress of World Federalists which opened today at Luxembourg.

The Italian unionist movement said the plan already had received approval of Count Carlo Sforza, Italian foreign minister, and Jean Lameroux, president of the World Movement for World Federalism.

It has been submitted for consideration to many countries, including Canada, Britain, Russia, the United States, Australia, South Africa and India.

The congress session is scheduled to last two weeks.

The plan envisages parliamentary groups throughout the world which would represent their countries in an international confederation.

Under the plan a world assembly would convene in Geneva in 1949, composed of national deputies from each of these groups. With the help of experts, they would draft a world constitutional charter, leaving the door open to all who wished to join.

National sovereignty would be limited to some extent, granting the confederation overall powers necessary for management of world affairs.

The confederation would apply the law, based on the world constitution, directly to the individual.

A "Bill of Rights" would be included, with a supra-national armed force to guarantee the security of the individual and the integrity of the confederation.

The force would be recruited from the member countries, which at the same time would submit to disarmament.

Atomic energy secrets and scientific discoveries would be shared by all members.

The confederation would have direct taxing power over its members.

Britain Resumes Trade Negotiations With Soviet Union

LONDON (AP)—Britain and Russia formally resumed negotiations Thursday to draw up a substantial trade agreement to cover an extended period, British government officials reported.

Russian Ambassador Georgi Zarubin gave A. G. Bottomley, Secretary for Overseas Trade, a list of Russian goods available for export to Britain.

Bottomley then gave the ambassador a list of British goods which are or soon will be available in quantity, together with tentative prices and approximate dates on which deliveries could be made.

It is understood Russia is proposing to sell grains and canned foods to Britain.

Commerce between the two countries at present is regulated by short-term agreements.

Figures Show Drop In Flour Production

OTTAWA (CP)—Wheat flour production in the 1947-48 crop year amounted to 24,244,000 barrels, a drop of 15 per cent from the record 28,588,000 of 1946-47, the Bureau of Statistics reported Monday.

July output was 1,814,000 barrels, compared with 2,251,000 in July, 1947.

Wheat used in flour production during the crop year totaled 110,206,000 bushels, compared with 127,775,000. The July total was 8,337,000 bushels, compared with 10,110,000. Stocks of wheat in flour mills at July 31 amounted to 1,854,000 bushels.

These were the quantities of coarse grains ground during the crop year, with 1946-47 comparisons in brackets: Oats, 23,134,000 bushels (29,888,000); corn, 1,517,000 (2,361,000); barley, 9,635,000 (9,755,000); buckwheat, 30,000 (46,000); rye, 8,900 (82,500); mixed grains, 18,201,000 (25,232,000).

Drank Shaving Lotion

COLLINGWOOD, Ont. (CP)—An Indian youth, charged with being drunk at a nearby beach, told police magistrate Thursday: "I couldn't have been drunk. I didn't have enough drink to get drunk."

"How much did you have to drink?" the magistrate asked.

"Just one bottle, sir."

"One bottle of what?"

"One bottle of shaving lotion, and that's the truth, sir."

He was fined $10 and costs.

OCTOPUS CAUGHT

ALBERNI—Mayor J. V. Hills and Alderman Donald Watson hooked an octopus while trolling off Ecoule on the Alberni Canal here. The sea monster waved tentacles about six feet in length. It escaped, however, before they could dispose of it.

Suggests Reservoirs Be Built At Cordova Bay

CORDOVA BAY—Construction of reservoirs to store city water during the night for the needs of Cordova Bay in the daytime, was suggested by K. Genn at a meeting of the Community Club here.

Mr. Genn made the suggestion after the club was informed that it would be necessary for the community to use well water during the summer unless Victoria increased the pressure of its mains serving Saanich.

Outlawing Helps Subversive Groups Mrs. Hodges Says

Believing more harm than good is done when subversive groups are forced "underground," Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., in an address Thursday night before the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club said Communist and similar organizations should not be outlawed in Canada.

Mrs. Hodges said that throughout history proscribed groups had made their biggest gains after being outlawed.

"I abhor Communism and the doctrines of rigidity and repression it represents," she said. "But I believe we can't combat it by outlawing it."

The only way to combat Communism, Mrs. Hodges maintained, is with a positive attitude, by demonstrating that the democratic way of life, with its freedom, has far more to offer than all the imported "isms."

Canadians should learn to be level-headed when dealing with persons who criticize democracy, Mrs. Hodges said. "We must deal intelligently with those whose views do not conform with our own."

Political toleration of minority groups, the speaker said, is necessary in all democratic countries.

Mrs. Hodges was presented at the conclusion of her address with a vase of chrysanthemums grown by David Nicol, Kiwanis president James Magrath also presented the speaker with tickets to the Chrysanthemum Show which the club will stage Sept. 17 and 18.

Small Cone Seed Yield Reported

COURTENAY—Continued wet weather has prevented pollenization of the result that seed yield of fir cones in the Courtenay area is expected to be small this year. It was learned from the B.C. Forest Service station here.

Forest officials said it would be impractical to use the new cone-drying shed, recently constructed near the Courtenay forest ranger station, because of the lack of cones. The shed is able to dry out seed for 25,000,000 Douglas fir trees in two dryings.

More Arrests Expected In Vice Ring In Montreal

QUEBEC (CP)—A vice ring which police said was the "most repugnant in police files" has been exposed here, municipal police made known Thursday night.

They said the case had been turned over to the office of Premier Maurice Duplessis in his capacity as Attorney-General.

The disclosures followed investigation of almost two months and came after the arrest and conviction of a 19-year-old country boy on a vagrancy charge. He was sentenced to eight days in jail, but police said he made declarations which enabled them to crack the vice ring wide open.

Authorities said several additional arrests could be expected shortly.

The youth and two unidentified women, so police said, made statements under oath naming two men and a woman as ring leaders.

CORROBORATION GIVEN

Police said the youth's story was corroborated by two women who previously had reported the situation to police.

Last July 10 police raided the alleged brothel and during the raid 23-year-old Delphine Bissonnette fell from a third-story window and was killed. A coroner's inquest decided she "accidentally" fell from the window while under the influence of liquor.

Ever since July 10 police had been seeking the youth who gave them the information on the vice ring.

During the inquest into Miss Bissonnette's death there was mention of a "frail youth" being held in the raided house against his will. Police, when they searched the place, failed to find him, but Thursday he was located in a downtown restaurant and arrested.

Trans-Canada Road Group Holds Meeting

The Southern Trans-Canada Highway Association will meet in Nelson Sept. 10 to continue its fight for development of roads in the southern areas of B.C., Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba into the western link of a coast-to-coast road.

Mayor Thomas H. Waters of Nelson, visiting Victoria on vacation, said members of the association will drive to Nelson from all parts of the four provinces. He said the association feels a trans-Canada road is a national necessity and as such should be financially a federal government responsibility.

It should be routed through the southern areas of the four western provinces, as it is in these areas that the populations are thickest, he added.

Two Killed When Plane Crashes Near Alert Bay

ALERT BAY (CP)—The pilot and passenger of a Bellanca aircraft bound from Vancouver for Alert Bay were killed when the plane crashed near here Thursday. The dead: Walter Britland, Vancouver, and Ken Weaver, inspector of fisheries at Alert Bay.

The aircraft crashed into trees 25 to 35 yards from shore at Carr Bay, just outside Growler Cove, about 4 Thursday afternoon and burned.

The bodies were brought to Alert Bay.

Weaver, a former Mounted Policeman, went overseas late in 1941 with the air force and attained the rank of flight-lieutenant as an air gunner.

He was widely known in the province and is survived by his wife, the former Sheila Donnelly of Victoria, and three children, one an infant in arms.

The plane was said to be one of the fleet of the Queen Charlotte Airlines.

C.C.L. Federation Meet To Discuss Living Costs

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Federation of Labor (C.C.L.) will hold its fifth annual convention here during the week-end. Sessions will open Saturday and continue through Sunday. One hundred and forty delegates from all parts of the province are expected. One of the main points to be discussed will be the soaring cost of living.

Grand Jury To Inquire Into Hollywood Dope

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The district attorney's office moved today for a county grand jury investigation into the marijuana-smoking case involving Robert Mitchum, handsome film hero, and attractive actress Lila Leeds.

District Attorney William E. Simpson announced that the chairman of the jury's criminal complaints committee had promised he would recommend an inquiry by the entire panel next Tuesday when the group resumes sessions.

The four—Mitchum, 31; Miss Leeds, 20; dancer Vickie Evans, 25 and a real estate man, Robin Ford, 31—were arrested when city and federal narcotics officers raided a secluded canyon home occupied by the two girls. All are free under $1,000 bond each.

APPEAL TO PUBLIC

The motion picture industry, through a spokesman, producer, Dore Schary, appealed to the public not to "indict the entire working personnel of 32,000 well-disciplined and clean-living American citizens" in the industry because of the Mitchum case.

Schary, former production chief at R-K-O studio, Mitchum's principal employer, said in a statement that "implications that a widespread or considerable use of narcotics exists in the motion picture industry are shocking, capricious and untrue."

Police investigators said the Mitchum raid was a first step in a clean-up of the narcotics traffic in the film colony.

Mrs. Dorothy Mitchum, the actor's wife, who was returning from the east with their two sons, was located in Las Vegas, Nev., where she told reporters: "I am undecided what to do."

She said she had read the first news of her husband's arrest on arriving in Las Vegas. She and the children—Jimmie, seven, and Chris, five, left early today for Hollywood.

One of Mitchum's counsel, Jerry Giesler, prominent criminal lawyer, issued a statement that "there are a number of unexplained facts and peculiar circumstances surrounding the raid... His many friends have expressed the opinion that when all the facts are known, he will be cleared. Therefore, we ask the public to withhold its judgment."

Western Diplomats Reported Satisfied

MOSCOW (AP)—Western diplomats were reported satisfied today with the course of talks in Berlin to date between the Military Governors of Britain, the United States, Russia and France.

Should the Berlin meetings become deadlocked, the problems would be referred back here for discussion in the Kremlin.

Several more days of talk are expected in Berlin about the blockade, currency and other German matters.

San Francisco Man Inherits Baronetcy

LONDON (AP)—Sir Henry Palmer Temple Blackwood, 52, known as a man who never bothered to claim his baronetcy, died Thursday.

His title may go to an American brother, Francis Elliott Temple Blackwood. Debret's Peerage said the brother is believed to be living in San Francisco.

Sir Henry, never a wealthy man, once sold automobiles for $5 ($20) a week and commissions while bearing the title created in 1814 for Vice-Admiral Blackwood, who distinguished himself at the Battle of Trafalgar.

British Film Censors Crack Down Harder

LONDON (CP)—British movie censorship is getting tougher. More than 10 per cent of films submitted to the British board of film censors during 1947 had to be cut. Six movies were rejected outright and 27 others returned to producers for cuts.

Film Figures Face Narcotics Trial

When police staged a surprise raid at the Hollywood home of film actress Lila Leeds (left) they arrested her, actor Robert Mitchum (right), and his friend, Robin Ford (centre) on a felony charge of violating the California State Narcotics Act. All four are free on $1,000 bail each. The raid climaxed eight months of investigation of Hollywood dope users by Los Angeles police narcotics squad and the Federal Narcotics Bureau.—(NEA Telephoto.)

British Railwaymen Hit Government's Wage Stabilization

LONDON (CP)—New pressure on the Labor government's vital wage stabilization program was revealed today with a claim of 460,000 railwaymen for an advance of 12 shillings and sixpence ($2.50) weekly in their basic wage.

In February the government announced the policy of general wage stabilization designed to check rises in personal incomes and to reduce the danger of runaway inflation.

But in recent days the government has allowed 70,000 engineers in its employment increases up to 11 shillings weekly and thus gave preferred treatment to them as compared with some 2,000,000 engineers in private industry for whom an increase of only five shillings weekly was recommended by a labor-ministry court of inquiry.

Political and industrial observers say other unions may demand similar treatment and if widespread pay raises are allowed the policy of stabilization will be broken if not destroyed.

Wallace Candidate Deferred By Threats

MT. VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Curtis MacDougall of the Progressive Party said "threats of violence" had forced him to cancel scheduled talks Thursday night in two southern Illinois coal-mining towns.

MacDougall, party candidate for United States senator, earlier had said he was stoned and he and his 14-member campaign party driven out of West Frankfort, Ill., another mining town, Wednesday night.

Toronto Board Has Sex Education Plan

TORONTO (CP)—A committee of the Toronto Board of Education has come up with a program to meet the age-old problem of parents—how to teach children about sex.

The committee approved a program of sex education in the two top grades of public schools, grades seven and eight, where pupils generally are from 10 to 14 years of age. But the details of how such classes should be organized, what should be taught and just how much scope should be allowed, remain to be fixed.

Director of Education C. C. Goldring said "the information should be given subtly, through the biology of plants and animals—not blatantly and obvious through a description of human reproduction."

Irgun, Underground Jewish Army Going Out Of Existence

JERUSALEM (AP)—Irgun Zvai Leumi, tough, turbulent Jewish underground group, is vanishing in history.

A Jerusalem member of the 11-year-old Irgun high command told a reporter Thursday: "Our separate existence is ending."

He hinted, however, that another underground movement might arise to "free Jerusalem from foreign rule." Until now, Irgun has kept an independent unit here to fight for Jewish sovereignty over the Holy City.

The spokesman said: "Under pressure by the (United States) State Department, which is the Foreign government, Irgun an army or have decided to go a useless civil war."

Negotiations to completely with the and dissolve it as a have been going weeks. A final pact in a few days.

CONVENIENTLY FORGOTTEN

WHEN HE SPOKE TO AN AUDIENCE in Victoria the other day Mr. John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member of the House of Commons for the Saskatchewan constituency of Lake Centre, delivered himself of one or two observations which will have been noted by the general public and to which we propose to draw particular attention. Among other things, he argued that his party not only should win the next federal general election, but also that it would be its "greatest opportunity of serving Canada since 1930," dropping the hint in passing that those who subscribe to the same political philosophy as himself must watch that they do not "miss the boat."

Mr. Diefenbaker is an able lawyer and no doubt approaches national problems from a more or less legalistic standpoint. But when he recalls, or assumes to recall, the record which the party to which he belongs set up for itself between 1930 and 1935, he conveniently forgets how completely and irrevocably the Conservatives led by the late Lord Bennett were soundly trounced by the Canadian people—who obviously resented maladministration of their affairs.

As we have said in these columns many times before, the blame for the economic disturbance to which Canada was subjected in the early thirties did not wholly belong to the Bennett regime. But neither Mr. Diefenbaker nor any of his P.C. party's followers can seriously refute the argument that the tariff and other policies instituted by the Conservative administration which held office for its full term of five years added immeasurably to the business troubles which derived from the crash of 1929—along with the preceding tariff spree in which our neighbor on the south and some European nations indulged in the middle and late 'twenties.

Mr. Diefenbaker may well contend that in the crucial years between the two global wars the administration presided over by Mr. Mackenzie King did not do as much as it might have done to enhance the flow of trade between nation and nation. At the same time, the Progressive Conservative member for Lake Centre must recognize that the economic royalists in the United States, supported in their fiscal beliefs by the policies of the Republican regimes of Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover, differed but little from the high protectionist philosophy to which the Borden, Meighen and Bennett administrations wholeheartedly subscribed. But the fact that the government over which Mr. Mackenzie King still presides has given its warm approval to the international trade convention agreed to at Geneva seems to furnish all the evidence necessary to prove that Canada intends to contribute her share toward the principle of international economic stability.

With the major historic events of Canadian-American political history for the last three decades clearly in our mind, therefore, and because Mr. Diefenbaker is an experienced and capable politician, we are not surprised that he warned his Victoria audience of Progressive Conservatives that they had better be careful not to "miss the boat."

HE SHOULD KNOW

CECIL B. DEMILLE, THE HOLLYWOOD movie maker whose 35 years in the film industry helped make such adjectives as "stupendous," "colossal" and "terrific" come to represent merely a starting point for adulatory description, has reversed his field. The man who staged camera scenes totalling millions of dollars in expense, and who specialized in crowding huge numbers of "extras" into his productions, says the industry is spending too much money on its pictures. "The motion picture industry," he says, "is the only one I know of that has almost priced itself out of existence." Coming from Mr. DeMille, that sounds like a colossal remark.

GOING TORY?

SOBER REFLECTION ON THE VICTORY of Premier E. C. Manning's party in the Alberta elections of Aug. 17 has strengthened the conviction of observers that the government in power was returned by an overwhelming majority because the people of the province regarded the administration as a stable and honest government. Students of the question are less ready to believe that the old Social Credit theories were the determining factor. They are more inclined to attribute the government's strength to the relatively orthodox administration that has been in operation and to credit to it—more than to the somewhat extravagant promises of its originators—this recent success at the polls.

If that assessment is correct—and it is widely endorsed—where does the Alberta party, which is becoming more generally recognized as Social Credit in name only, stand? Dismissal from the Alberta government of senior officials who had been early disciples of Douglas furnishes its own comment on the change of policy. But what direction is the change taking?

The manner in which the 13 members from that province—elected under the S.C. banner—have joined forces on various issues with Progressive Conservatives in Ottawa suggests an answer and poses another question: Will the one-time champions of monetary reform theories and dividend distribution projects continue long as a political entity, or will the inclination to forget the tenets of Aberhart lead in the near future to their more definite affiliation with the older party to which they have shown a partiality in the Dominion Parliament?

POLITICS AND CULTURE

THE SOMEWHAT DISGUSTED COMMENT of the eminent British scientist-philosopher, Dr. Julian Huxley, that the Congress of Intellectuals held at Wrocław, Poland, last week "took a political turn from the outset," emphasizes once again that nothing that takes place in the areas under Soviet influence can remain free of Marxist dogma and propaganda appeals. As the Director-General of the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization, Dr. Huxley had been invited to serve as one of the five presidents of the congress, and he had accepted on the understanding that the conference would be confined entirely to cultural matters. Apparently such restraint was too much for the eastern European organizers, however. They could not resist—or else they were afraid to neglect—the opportunity to do a little political indoctrination on the side.

The plight of Soviet scientists and directors of cultural activities is well known on this side of the world. Conducting their work under the eye and the ever-present rod of the Kremlin's functionaries, they must place political considerations before any others. A piece of writing or music, a play, a dance, a painting, a scientific theory, is "good" if it is in line with Marxist-Leninist political thought. If not, it is "bad." Mingling with men who must work under such conditions, it is no wonder that their counterparts from the western world returned home to complain about the conduct of the congress. There can be only limited contact between men whose minds are free and those whose intellects are politically fettered.

CREATING NEW JOBS

ACCORDING TO THE LATEST EMPLOYMENT statistics published by the Department of Labor at Ottawa, unemployed job seekers registered at national employment offices throughout the Dominion fell to 91,000 at August 19 from 110,000 in mid-July, and 95,000 a year ago. In the month of August, 1947, however, statistics revealed a severe labor shortage. Since then, on the other hand, selected immigration and training schemes "have supplied the skilled men urgently needed for key jobs... these in turn have made jobs for additional unskilled workers; consequently, this year workers have been fitted to take the jobs available and the labor supplied has been used to its best advantage."

This latest survey of the Department of Labor would seem to emphasize the basic truism that the quicker Canada admits new comers who are ready and willing to become useful and loyal citizens of this Dominion, the greater will be the prospect of increased demands for the products of the farm and the factory—thus stimulating the requirements of labor under innumerable heads.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

WE ARE TOLD BY THE CITIZENS OF ONTARIO that their use of electric power will be subject to considerable curtailment again this coming winter. Those of us in this province who have little or nothing to fear from a prospect of this kind are wondering why it is that a part of the nation where there is abundant water power should be called upon for such restrictions as the government at Queen's Park may have to impose.

So far as we recollect, about five years ago the governments of Ontario and Quebec entered into agreements in which it was arranged for extensive development of the Ottawa River's water power potentialities. Yet, it is strange to record, shortly after Mr. Duplessis and Mr. Drew became premiers of their respective provinces, one of their first acts by an apparent mutual understanding was the repudiation of this agreement.

They did not take up the question again until 1946, three years later and apparently three years too late. In other words, and in view of this joint action, our friends in Ontario seem to have no guarantee of adequate electric power for their basic needs until at some time in the year 1950.

"NUFF" SAID

WE MAY BE PARDONED IF WE REMIND Mr. John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member for the Saskatchewan constituency of Lake Centre, when he argues that Canada at present is being controlled by a bureaucracy, he really should recall what Senator Alben Barkley told the Democratic nominating convention in Philadelphia a few weeks ago. Said President Truman's running mate on that occasion:

"A bureaucrat is a Democrat who holds a job which a Republican wants."

Further comment on this point would appear to be superfluous.

There is one consolation. A candidate may say foolish things, but a man of good sense always grows up to his responsibilities,

National Spirit

By WICKHAM STEED,
Former Editor of The Times of London.

THERE ARE, I FANCY, more things than meet the eye in the dispute between the "Cominform" and Yugoslavia. Unless I am wrong—as I may be, though I have watched the Yugoslavs for some 50 years and have had a good deal to do with them—this dispute is the latest phase of determined efforts made by the Yugoslav peoples to attain unity "in freedom and independence."

In modern times, those efforts began with the revolt of the Serbian leader, Kara-george, against Turkish oppression in 1804. They culminated more than a century later in the establishment of the Yugoslav Kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes at the end of the First World War in 1918. During the Second World War, under the leadership of Marshal Tito, the Yugoslavs fought valiantly against German oppression and reaffirmed their unity in a federal form.

AS A COMMUNIST trained in Moscow, Tito, and the Yugoslav Communists who had been the spearhead of the national resistance, made common cause with the Soviet Union after the war, albeit without regarding themselves as its "satellites." Moscow, on the other hand, looked upon and treated Yugoslavia as no less a satellite than Communist-controlled Poland or Hungary. This, I think, was a psychological error. My own opinion of Yugoslavs is that they can easily, perhaps too easily, be led but that all attempts to drive or dominate them are apt to be defeated by their stubborn spirit of independence.

However convinced a Communist Marshal Tito may be, and no matter how thoroughly he may be versed in the Marxist-Leninist ideology, he is bound to reckon with this spirit among his fellow countrymen—of whom the great majority are not Communists—and probably also among the Yugoslav Communists themselves. There may, of course, be an element of personal pride, if not of actual rivalry, in his relations with Stalin, since Tito is a national leader in his own right, not a puppet set up by Moscow.

FOR 20 YEARS Tito was a trusted and trustworthy agent of the "Comintern," the predecessor of the "Cominform," in several European countries. He knew what had happened to Stalin's rival, Trotsky, who was driven into exile and finally slain by a Communist emissary in Mexico City. He knew, too, how Stalin had liquidated the Bolshevik "Old Guard" in Russia. He can hardly be unaware of the risks run by opponents of Stalin. Why has he chosen to face those risks?

The answer may lie in Tito's experience in the struggle against the German invaders of Yugoslavia. He became the leader of the people's resistance to a foreign conqueror and a symbol of their hatred of traitors and of compromisers with the enemies of their freedom. He showed courage and military ability. His personal magnetism led thousands of non-Communists to follow him. He became a national hero, almost a national idol; he may not have forgotten that in his struggle he owed far more to help from Britain than to any aid Russia was able to lend him.

WHEN THE STRUGGLE was over, Tito felt he had outgrown his earlier functions as agent of the "Comintern" and was entitled to stand on his own feet as an acknowledged leader. If his devotion to the Soviet Union was unabated, his very leadership demanded that he take account of Yugoslav interests in the first place.

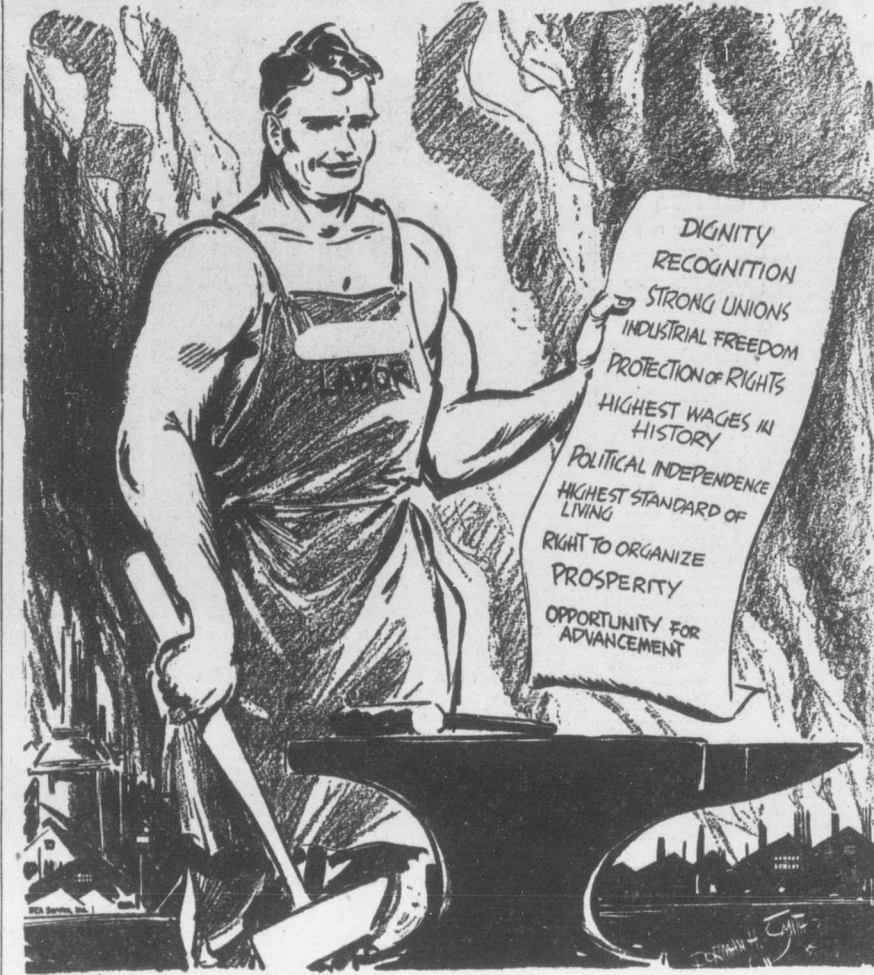

According to my information, he gradually realized that it might be difficult to harmonize these two motives in practice and that the presence in Yugoslavia of several thousand highly paid Russian officers and other "experts" was not only burdensome financially but a source of irritation to Yugoslav non-Communists and Communists alike.

A SUPREME EFFORT was needed to restore Yugoslav agriculture and industry after the devastation of the war years. Russia could help little in this work. The west, especially the United States and Great Britain, might be willing and able to help. Therefore, when the Marshall Plan in aid of European recovery was announced, Tito wished Yugoslavia to share in its benefits. He wrote Stalin in this sense—and was curtly bidden to "toe the line" with Soviet Russia and her other satellites in rejecting and opposing it. Against his better judgment Tito obeyed; but his discontent grew in proportion as the Marshall Plan appeared likely to succeed.

Then came differences with Russia and her agents in Yugoslavia about the help to be given to Albania and the Greek rebels. Tito set his own very efficient political police to keep an eye upon and to isolate Russian officers and agents—a game in which Tito, thanks to his Moscow training, is a past master. Acrimonious correspondence with the Cominform ensued. It culminated in the excommunication of the Yugoslav Communist Party, which replied by giving Tito and his comrades an enthusiastic vote of complete confidence at the recent party congress.

THE ACROMONIOUS correspondence has now been published. It is edifying as an exhibition of brotherly love for it teems with abusive epithets. One of the Yugoslav letters contains, however, a passage which strikes me as particularly significant. "Let anyone," it says, "love the Soviet Union but no one must love his own country less." This is the real point. If the Soviet Union ignores it, the dispute between Stalin and Tito may evoke the Yugoslav stubbornness against which Turkey, Austria, Hungary and Hitler strove in vain.

POTENT QUESTIONS

I believe that the farmer's high prices will boomerang. Food prices have been spearheading the cost of living and are they not largely responsible for the third round of wage boosts? Organized labor's wage hike will undoubtedly hold after prices of farm produce recede to world level, then the shoe will be on the other foot and the farmer will be hard put to pay the prices on fuel and manufactured goods.

Apparently some economists and officials are now of the opinion that some inflation is desirable. It raises the national income thus making it easier for us to carry the tax load. But aren't we merely shifting part of the war debt from profits and incomes onto the middle-class people who bought bonds, mortgages and insurance, whose savings were insufficient for speculative investment? Their dollars are shrinking under inflation.

Last year the U.S. price of wheat was over $3.00 when the parity price guaranteed to the farmer was $1.84. This year their parity is $2.00, which I presume is to give the farmer the same spending power as industrial workers. Meats went up the same extent and stayed up. Now our farmers are to receive U.S. prices, or, shall we say, U.S. wages.

Something might be said for the farmer getting prices above parity since the lumber industry and others also do, but in the latter case our government receives a nice share of the profit in corporation taxes. And the price of lumber is a small factor in the cost of living while the cost of food is a big item affecting everybody.

Would it not be wise to subsidize some everyday necessities that are priced above parity, as is now done with flour, in order to keep our price structure healthy for future exports?

ANTI-AIRCRAFT SCHOOL
Major General Charles Foulkes is to be congratulated on reviving the old anti-aircraft school at Fort Macaulay. The first A.A. Battery and School, with lecture rooms, barracks and kitchen, in Canada was started at this old fort in 1926 by Lieut.-Colonel J.

G. Harris and Captain R. H. Fort of this city. Lieut. Colonel J. G. Rycroft was the chief instructor. A prize trophy was presented at that time to the Royal Canadian Artillery Association at Ottawa for annual competition and Major Crockett took it with him to Ottawa in 1927. But I am told it has never been competed for. In 1926 and subsequent years the two old guns were hardly safe to fire but the department at Ottawa could not afford to supply new and up-to-date guns and sights.

All this was changed in 1941, when new A.A.C. guns in great numbers were sent out with up-to-date sights and ammunition. This area just bristled with A.A.C. guns which were frequently fired in practice.

For many years after 1926 the local A.A.C. battery was the only one in Canada, and was much neglected by the R.C.A. in Ontario. It is honorable to give credit to the real pioneers, and on no account forget them. Let us salute the gunners and officers of the Old A.A.C. Battery. FREDERICK V. LONGSTAFF.

A Slip In The Diplomacy Department

By JAMES THRASHER from New York

Who gets the error on the play that led the State Department to demand the recall of Jacob Lomakin, the Soviet Consul General in New York? Some member of the Russian team kicked the diplomatic ball around in a most awkward, amateurish fashion in the case of the Soviet school teachers. But it is doubtful that Mr. Lomakin should get the mark against him in the box score.

INTEMPERATE CHARGES
He is the man, of course, who made the dangerously intemperate charges against the federal government and the New York police department. He is the man who forced Mrs. Kasenkina into an obviously untrue statement, and told three different stories about her jump from the consulate window.

UNEXPECTED BLOW?
The likeliest explanation of the whole amazing affair perhaps is that the Kasenkina-Samarin incident was an unexpected blow that caught the Kremlin off guard. In striking back, the Soviet government seems to have lost its head and to have succeeded only in looking ridiculous.

The reason for this may well be that the Soviet leaders are not skilled diplomats. All of them are intellectually insular, and some of them are geographically insular as well. Premier Stalin has scarcely been out of Russia in his almost 70 years. A few top men like Mr. Molotov have been abroad. But everywhere they carry with them the closed mind which refuses to try to understand what is foreign and potentially fearful.

The Soviet leaders have not only set up a barrier of education and propaganda to protect the Russian people from intellectual and social contact with the outside world and the unvarnished truth. They have also, to some extent, set an example by erecting a similar barrier in their own minds.

If, by remote chance, the Kasenkina-Samarin incident could have taken place in Russia and could have reached the point it reached here, the authorities most likely would have acted just as they have. And in Russia it would have been easy to get away with it.

But the authorities forgot or did not know that the truth is not suppressed in the United States. They forgot or did not know that what actually happened in this case would be presented to the world, buttressed by fact, and lined up beside the Russian fabrications.

POLICY WEAKNESS
Certainly the whole unpleasant business has shown a fundamental weakness in Russian policy. But whether that weakness will make the Soviet government any easier to get along with, or whether it can be exploited to build a firmer foundation for peace, is another and less hopeful matter.

Streamlined Cyclist
Montreal Star
"The world do move" and every day and in every way things are getting better and better. We have just been reading about a bicycle club that struck town this week aboard the C.N.R.'s "Continental Limited." It has done a 10,000-mile swing around the continent and has managed to keep its bicycling down to 800 miles, maintaining its headquarters on a special sleeping-car.

We cyclists of an earlier day may have been (at least we did think we were) a hardy crew. Perhaps we were. But certainly we were less intelligent.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

THAT WAS a vastly encouraging statement which Gen. MacArthur issued in Tokyo on the third anniversary of Japan's surrender.

He declared that Japan is equipped with the mortal weapons "to repel the totalitarian advance." And he went on to link Nippon with the new south Korean Republic and with the Republic of the Philippines in "a triangular buttress" for democracy in Asia.

Freely interpreted this strikes me as meaning there is unity of purpose between the Oriental trio and the United States. And to these three I think we must add China, whose spirit is willing though her flesh be weak.

MORAL VALUES
MacArthur confined his remarks to moral values, but your columnist for one finds it difficult not to expand the thought to include military consideration. After all, the Orient is seething with turmoil, and if there is another world war it most certainly will encompass that part of the globe—indeed, it might well start there.

Let's analyze this Far Eastern situation ourselves from the military angle.

Japan and the Philippines not only are buttresses for democracy in the ideological sense, but they would be vital both for offence and defence in event of war with Russia.

HIGHLY STRATEGIC

As for the Korean peninsula ("a dagger pointed at the heart of Japan"), it is, of course, one of the world's highly strategic positions. So long as it remains under American military occupation it is a bastion in democracy's defence. However, it lies under the muzzles of Russia's big guns, and it is given to wonder whether the United States high command would choose to defend southern Korea in event of global war. There is such a thing as spreading your forces out too thin.

Still, while the loss of Korea would be serious, the combination of Japan and the Philippines would provide a mighty defence, as our experience in the last war fully demonstrated.

Moreover, MacArthur's statement would seem to encourage the belief that Japan not only would be available as a "bastion" for democracy but that she would in fact be an ally of the western powers. That is to say, Nippon not only could be used for a base but she would participate actively in the war.

FROM HABIT TO NEED
Winnipeg Free Press

The headlines in the British press last week were not, as you might think, devoted to the final test match between England and Australia, or even to the Berlin crisis; they turned on something much more important—the cigarette shortage. And to show it was not just a newspaper stunt, on Monday, Aug. 17, Britain's Labor cabinet met in a special session to consider the problem. Thus in little more than 100 years, the cigarette has grown from an effeminate habit to a national need.

MOST GENEROUS
Toronto Star

Figures released by the United Nations on the grants and loans made by all countries for war reconstruction purposes confirm Canada's position as the most generous giver. On a dollar basis, it is true, the United States is far in the lead. But on a per capita basis, which makes allowances for the vast differences in population and means, Canada is substantially ahead.

SING THEIR PRAISES
Exchange

High as our regard is for the Canadian people we little dreamed that 56,023 of them would refuse to go after the refundable portion of their wartime income taxes. More than $2,000,000 await them. Seldom was so much owed to so many by the taxpayer. The patriotic fire burns high indeed when the income tax department can't give its money back.

Some poet should sing the praises of these few, these happy few, this band of brothers—56,023 of them—who treat $2,000,000 like so much dirt. They deserve to be joined by others. We would join them ourselves, but alas, we have got ours—and we are hanging on to it.

ASK CREATION OF WATER BOARD—Provincial government will be asked to bring the Greater Victoria Water Board, made possible by legislation passed this spring, into effect immediately. Ald. F. N. Cabellu, chairman of the city water committee, said Thursday afternoon, following a meeting of representatives from Victoria, Esquimalt and Saanich. The board which will take over the city-owned water supply system and sell water to each of the Greater Victoria municipalities, in addition to some surrounding areas, will be brought into force by proclamation. Shown left to right with Mayor Percy George, seated, are: Ald. C. F. Banfield, Reeve E. C. Warren of Saanich, Reeve A. I. Thomas of Esquimalt and Ald. Cabellu. Members considered Jan. 1 the best date to take over operation of the supply system, according to Ald. Cabellu. Provincial proclamation will enable the board to appoint a water commissioner and staff and get the necessary organization underway.

Anti-Semitism Condemned In Church World Council Report

AMSTERDAM (AP)—A report to the World Council of Churches today condemned anti-Semitism. It took no sides in the Arab-Jewish conflict in Palestine.

A committee of the World Council called on Christianity to work for "order in Palestine" and took the view the church should offer relief for victims of the warfare in the Holy Land "without discrimination."

The report on the "Christian approach to the Jews" came before the World Council for action today.

The report called upon all Christian churches to make the Jewish question a concern of their own "as we share with them (Jews) the results of our too brief wrestling with it."

"We must acknowledge in all humility that too often we have failed to manifest Christian love towards our Jewish neighbors or even a resolute will for common social justice," the report continued.

"We call upon all the churches we represent to denounce anti-Semitism, no matter what its origin, as absolutely irreconcilable with the profession and practice of the Christian faith. Anti-Semitism is a sin against God and man."

The church has failed to maintain its missions to the Jewish people, the report said, adding that it must consider the responsibility for missions to the Jews as a normal part of its parish work.

ALL IN FELLOWSHIP

"For such a fellowship there will be no difference between a converted Jew and other Christian members, all belonging to the same church and fellowship," the report went on.

The committee recommended among other things that member churches of the World Council should "seek to recover the universality of our Lord's commission by including the Jewish people in their evangelistic work."

"They asked also that member churches 'encourage their people to seek for brotherly contact with and understanding of their Jewish neighbors and co-operation in agencies combatting misunderstanding and prejudices.'"

Dame Lytton Dies

LONDON (CP) — Hon. Mrs. Alfred Lytton (Dame Edith Lytton), 83, author and mother of Oliver Lytton, war-time President of the Board of Trade, died at her home Thursday.

She was the author of several plays, including "Warp and Woof," and "The Thumbscrew," and her books included "Traveling Days" and biographies of Alfred Lytton and Florence Up-ton.

Talk Of Low Prices Welcome Change At Rotary Luncheon

A pleasant respite from present-day talk of high prices was enjoyed by members of the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel Thursday, when they heard of champagne at 25 cents a bottle and luggage and precious gems at a fraction of their price here.

The information was given by Col. W. F. W. Hancock, who experienced the phenomenon, to a Canadian at least, of the low prices while touring the Orient earlier this year.

Col. Hancock, special assistant to the vice-president of the eastern region, Northwest Airlines Inc., was given a 16,000-mile trip by air to Japan, China and the Philippines, by his company.

"For the first time in my life I was a millionaire," said the speaker. "I owned $11,000,000 Chinese dollars which I obtained by changing about $10 in American currency."

Col. Hancock, who spent 35 years with the R.C.M.P., before being retired, was of the opinion that with the increased commercial air traffic between Canada and the Orient, there will be a corresponding increase in trade.

Speaking with a voice remarkably like that of Ronald Coleman, Col. Hancock, with a touch of dry humor, told of trying to eat 100-day-old eggs which had been buried in lime in the Chinese custom, and added that one bite was all he could manage.

General McArthur gets tough with the Japanese, he observed, but they rather like to be regimented so it works out suitably.

Col. Hancock concluded with a description of the wreckage around Manila which is still to be seen.

'Cukes' Out In Front With 'Spuds' As Big Product Of P.E.I. Farms

By CANADIAN PRESS

Prince Edward Island, sometimes called "Spud Island" in celebration of its potatoes, is in a fair way to becoming known as "cucumber land" if a Guelph, Ont., firm has its way.

This firm, Matthew-Wells Co. Ltd. couldn't get enough cucumbers in Ontario for its dills, gherkins and other kinds of pickles and decided that a soil which grew clean, flavoursome potatoes could grow its raw material too.

So, starting last year, it went 1,000 miles from home, set up its pickling vats in Charlottetown, and asked island farmers to bring along their cukes. They brought them all right, about 3,000 tons of them, until the company had to call a halt in mid-September. This year it figures it has things under control, especially with a late season.

It's a very welcome cash crop for the farmer, and it's a contract affair, signed up in the fall, so he knows when he starts what he is going to get.

It will hardly supplant the potato, because even one acre of cukes is a lot of cucumbers; the larger farms with plenty of help may try it, but for the smaller ones about a half-acre seems right.

When the cucumbers start popping out of the vines it takes about four people working hard to keep an acre harvested, for the growing enthusiasm of the cuke is an astonishing thing. At about finger length they bring 7 cents a pound, but they all want to become forearm size by nightfall where they rate a half-cent.

Top yield so far has been about $700 an acre, with the average considerably below that.

Urges Teaching Of Law's Future

MONTREAL (CP)—Chief Justice Arthur Vachon of the New Jersey Supreme Court said here Thursday emphasis in teaching of law should be placed on its future as well as its history.

Addressing the civil liberties section of the Canadian Bar Association, he said more attention should be paid pre-law education before students are admitted to law schools and there should be a better background in law.

To Replace Text Of Old Testament With New Translation

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church in the United States has started to produce a modern-English translation of the Old Testament to replace a text in use for more than 300 years.

Two copies of the Book of Genesis—already printed and bound—have been presented to Pope Pius, Rev. Stephen Hartdegen, secretary of a committee of scholars which is making the translation, said Thursday.

General publication of the new text of Genesis, he said, will begin next Tuesday.

The modernized Old Testament will replace the Douay version of the testament which has been in use since 1609 as the Roman Catholic English version, Father Hartdegen said.

A translation of the New Testament—along similar lines—was first published in 1941.

The new version of the Old Testament, he said, is described on the title page as being "translated from the original languages with critical use of all the ancient sources."

Rev. John Forest, director of the press which will print the new translation, said words such as "thee," "thou," "thy" and "behold" will be eliminated.

Instead, "you," "your" and "see" will be substituted.

He also gave the following as an example of the modernization: In the old version, one part of chapter one of Genesis reads "Behold I have given you every herb bearing seed upon the earth, and all the trees that have in themselves seed of their own kind, to be your meat."

The new version will read: "See, I give you every seed-bearing plant on the earth and every tree which has a seed-bearing fruit to be your food."

The new version will read: "See, I give you every seed-bearing plant on the earth and every tree which has a seed-bearing fruit to be your food."

Work on the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau's modern new building at the north end of the causeway will likely get under way around the end of the month.

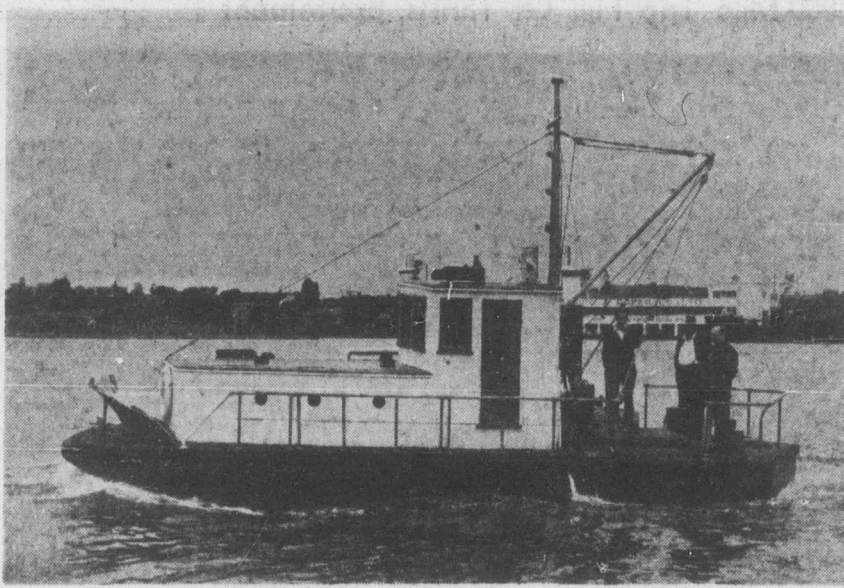

This was announced Thursday afternoon by Louis Michelin, president of the Rotary Club, which is sponsoring a drive to raise $20,000 for the structure.

According to Mr. Michelin, enough money has now been raised to enable a start to be made, but there is still a great deal needed to bring the fund up to its objective.

The bureau is temporarily being housed in the new Black Ball Line building.

View On Freight Rates

REGINA (CP)—The people of Canada are "getting the run-around" from the federal government on the matter of freight rates, Premier T. C. Douglas said Thursday. Mr. Douglas was commenting on Ottawa reports that the Justice Department had informed the cabinet it has not the power to set up a Royal Commission to investigate freight rates.

UNUSUAL CRAFT—A vessel that even her builders, Angus Marine Sales and Service Ltd., aren't sure what to call, is the converted, self-propelled 40-foot scow shown taking her trials in Victoria Harbor Thursday afternoon. Propelled by an 85-h.p. diesel engine, the craft will serve as an all-purpose vessel for the Dugan Logging Co. of Texada Island. She has accommodation for three.

Saanich Scores Lack Of Action On U.B.C.M. Work

Saanich council members at a meeting Thursday night were critical of the lack of notice they anticipate will be paid by the provincial and federal governments to resolutions which might be passed by Union of B.C. Municipalities convention at Harrison next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Members were basing this opinion on the little action which had been taken in regard to previous convention decisions. Sixty-three resolutions will be considered at this parley.

In the comment on the question of how many resolutions passed would get any government attention, the highest estimate was by Councillor W. C. Kersey. He figured about 50 per cent. Councillor Leslie Passmore, however, considered the total would be even less.

Reeve E. C. Warren, municipal clerk John B. Tribe and Councillors K. R. Genn and Thomas Alexander are Saanich representatives for the convention.

Move of Burnaby at the parley to give power to the courts of revision to lower assessments below 50 per cent of what the taxpayers' levy was the previous year, will meet Saanich opposition. It would wreck the assessment rolls if passed, the reeve thought.

However, the council delegates will support moves for municipal exemption from the 3 per cent B.C. sales tax, the federal sales tax on heavy machinery and the 8 per cent federal sales tax.

Saanich Police Catch 8 Speeding Motorists

Eight motorists who were caught exceeding the 30-mile-an-hour speed limit in Saanich this week paid fines of $15 each in Saanich Police Court Thursday. Small traffic fines totaled $150, remainder being made up with levies for failing to halt at stop signs, failing to have a driver's license and for having no license plates displayed.

Saanich Seeking Unpaid License Fees

The first Saanich court case in connection with the Municipal Council's determination to collect unpaid trades license fees, occurred Thursday at the court session.

Kenneth Alexander, Gordon Rooms, Johnson Street, pleaded guilty to carrying on a business as a chimney sweep without a license and was fined $2.50 by Magistrate H. C. Hall. The light fine was imposed after C. L. Harrison, municipal prosecutor, explained accused had since secured the required trades license.

Brig. F. N. Cabeldu Leaves For Bruges

Invited to participate in ceremonies Sept. 12 marking the fourth anniversary of the liberation of the city of Bruges in Belgium, Brigadier F. N. Cabeldu left Victoria Thursday night on the first hop of his flight to the continent.

Brigadier Cabeldu, who won the C.B.E. and D.S.O. and bar for his part in the Bruges liberation and other northwest Europe campaigns, commanded the Fourth Canadian Brigade in the major engagement, in which the Germans were driven from the city.

Brigadier Cabeldu is traveling across Canada by Trans-Canada Air Lines and is expected to stop briefly at Ottawa. An air force plane will take him across the Atlantic to England and then across the Channel to Bruges.

S. African Farmers Want Government To Deport Indians

CAPETOWN (AP)—The congress of the Transvaal Agricultural Union adopted Thursday a resolution asking the government to deport "each and every Indian in South Africa."

Some speakers asked more support for an anti-Indian boycott. Others told the farm organization South Africa would be over-run by Asiatics if steps were not taken soon.

South Africa's population in 1946 was 11,368,000. An Indian spokesman at the United Nations said the Indians in South Africa total 282,539.

India has protested to the United Nations against discrimination it charged is experienced by the Indian minority. The matter is scheduled to come up again at the Paris session of the Assembly this month.

Says Hostility Is Inevitable In Family Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Don't expect your husband or wife to love you all the time—or you're in for trouble.

And when your young child gets angry with you, even to saying he'd gladly kill you, don't punish him. Take it easy. All children feel that way at times.

And don't spoil things at home by overworking the old adage: "Don't put off until tomorrow what can be done today." It makes for a neurotic kind of life. All these are just some of the elements that can produce an unhappy home life, says Dr. Luther E. Woodward, field consultant of the National Committee for Mental Health.

A lot depends on the kind of people who live in the home, and what they do and think.

One cause of trouble is the movie and fiction idea of "they lived happily ever after." Dr. Woodward said. A wedding is pictured as the acme of happiness, and the first month of marriage as the happiest. That's nonsense, he says, and when tempers flare and quarrels start, the disillusioned spouse may start to worry and brood.

"Probably no one loves anyone 100 per cent of the time. Some anger and hostility is natural and inevitable. If married people understand that, they can make allowances when a mate is upset, and avoid serious quarrels that leave scars."

"And, he continued, "there's just no way to bring up children so they won't be angry with you at some time. When you do have to cross them or deny them something, they may get violently angry, hating you, even threatening you. When they talk that way, don't punish them. Punishment would only add to their resentment. Listen to the child, let him know you understand what he means, and be willing to play with as soon as he's ready. His anger blows over much sooner, and he avoids nervous reactions and lasting resentments."

Home safety-valve people, Dr. Woodward said, "At least one member of the family, and preferably all, should be good at relieving others of their troubles, good at draining off their feelings of hostility, fear, and anger."

Library Staff Members Honored At Dinner

Miss Margaret Clay and Miss Thessa Pollock entertained at dinner at The Ranch, Mt. Douglas Park, Wednesday evening, to honor six members of the Victoria Library staff—Miss Isabelle Pike, who is leaving shortly to attend

University of British Columbia; Misses Joan Matheson, Nina Greig, Nora Dryburgh and Marjorie Aldritt, who are to attend the School of Library Science at University of Washington, and Miss Margaret Floyd, who recently resigned from the staff.

Young Hostesses Entertain For Visitor

Miss Elenore Straith and her cousin, Miss Janet Straith, were hostesses Thursday night at a playroom party at the Burdick Avenue home of the former, to honor Wally Orr, a young visitor in the city from New York. Other guests were Margaret and Elizabeth Molson, Walter MacDonald, Dick Vogel, Diana Arnott, Isabelle and Douglas Henley and Stuart Kenning Jr.

Mr. Arthur J. L. Ash, M.L.A. for Saanich, has returned to his Quadra Street home following a month spent in Ottawa, Brockville and Toronto.

Miss K. Elaine Hughes, Leigh Road, Langford Lake, has left for Vancouver, en route for Sicamous, B.C., where she will teach for the coming year.

Ald. C. F. Banfield left today for Port Angeles where he will represent the Mayor and city council at Drby Week, for the day.

Mrs. D. Flatman and her son David, left by plane Thursday for Butte, Mont., where they will spend three weeks as guests of Mrs. Flatman's sister, Mrs. David Chestnut.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jacobson and family, who have spent the summer at Macombe, Alta., recently returned to their home on the Island Highway at Langford. Mr. and Mrs. George Massie have also returned to their Langford home, following a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Robertson, at Port Renfrew, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Straith, Burdick Avenue, have as their guests, Mrs. Straith's aunt, Mrs. Jerome Hillborn of Bermuda, and Mrs. W. J. Martin, New York City. The visitors, who are spending a couple of weeks in the city, were accompanied by Mr. Hillborn and Mr. Wally Orr Jr. of New York City, who are both staying at the Empress Hotel.

Miss Noreen Nairne, a Saturday bride-elect, was a visitor in Vancouver last weekend, the guest of Mrs. F. McDonald. Last Saturday evening, she and her fiancé, Mr. F. H. Rowe, were home guests at a get-together of the latter's friends. During the evening a presentation of an Ayers reversible blanket and pillow cases was made by Ken Kennedy from those present, with best wishes of all to the bride and groom-elect.

10,000-Mile Trip Full Of Thrills, Excitement

Miss Muriel McKenzie, left, and Mrs. R. M. Mace of Swift Current, Sask., are pictured in a charming mirror study at the home of their hostess, Mrs. W. R. Tripp, Dufferin Road.

The traditional pomp and splendor and breathless excitement of a bullfight—the romance of gay, lilting music in enchanting floating gardens—the calm beauty of the Shrine of Guadalupe, all will remain vividly alive in the memories of two travel-minded young ladies, who are completing the last lap of a 10,000-mile journey with their visit this week in Victoria.

Mrs. Mace and Miss McKenzie left their homes in Swift Current, Sask., four weeks ago, on a trip by motor which took them to Winnipeg, across the United States border at Emerson, to Omaha, Dallas and San Antonio and into Mexico at Laredo.

"There they spent 10 thrill-packed days. "The Spanish and Mexican people could not do enough for us," the girls said.

"They are extremely fond of Canadians, and went out of their way to make our visit a success. We were directed and escorted to all the sights of interest," they continued.

"Most of the people speak English," Miss McKenzie remarked, "and we got along very well."

"But we did have mishap," Mrs. Mace stated, laughingly, "when we gave our taxi-driver the name of our hotel in English. Not recognizing the English name, our chauffeur took us practically all over the city, trying to find someone who knew the hotel. Finally, one soul gave our man the Spanish translation, and we were on our way immediately."

One of their most thrilling experiences came when they attended a Mexican bullfight the girls said.

"We were very much impressed with the matadors, in their ornate costumes, complete with the traditional 'bun' attached to their three-cornered hats," they both tell you, in one breath.

"Even the attendants wore rich colorful costumes and the horses were decked in gay trappings," they added.

"During bullfights, which usually last about two hours, and are attended by as many as 5,000 to 10,000 people, six bulls are killed," stated Mrs. Mace, "and we certainly found that much different to our Saskatchewan rodeos."

While in Victoria, the girls are guests of Mrs. W. R. Tripp, Dufferin Road. Also staying with Mrs. Tripp is Mrs. E. McKenzie, also from Swift Current, who has spent the past two months in the city.

The party leaves tonight for the mainland en route to Saskatchewan, where the girls will resume their positions at the Swift Current Clinic.

Rummage Sale—Arrangements were made at the first monthly meeting of the Venture Club for the 1948-49 season, to hold a rummage sale on Oct. 16. Plans were also made for the social evening to be held at the home of Dorothy Jackson on Sept. 13.

New Member—Dr. C. C. Annett was welcomed as a new member at the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Y.M.C.A., held yesterday afternoon in the lounge at the "Y". The president, Mrs. W. C. Wells, was in the chair and plans were made for a fall fair to be held in the Y.M.C.A. on Oct. 21.

Institute Picnic

Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute members and their families gathered last Sunday for a picnic at Weir's Beach. Horseshoe pitching was enjoyed during the afternoon. Next meeting will be held on Tuesday at 8, when plans will be made to assist at the Metchisin Farmers' Institute fall fair, to be held on Sept. 13.

Miss Margaret C. Smedley, R.N., is vacationing at Langford the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smedley, Island Highway. Miss Smedley motored from Spokane.

Tricky Voyage Doesn't Worry First Lady Of New Zealand

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—Even in these modern days there is an element of danger in being the First Lady of the Dominion of New Zealand. During a vice-regal tour of New Zealand's outlying dependencies, Lady Freyberg, wife of the governor-general, Lt.-Gen. Sir Bernard Freyberg, V.C., has earned widespread admiration for the quiet determination with which she made dangerous landings in heavy surf.

The smaller islands of the Cook and Tokelau Groups are guarded by vicious coral reefs over which the sea surges in a way that makes any landing risky. Many a man after a look at the reefs has decided against landing. The only way to reach shore is in the frail boats of the islanders who are highly skilled in crossing the reefs but whose reckless air does anything but inspire confidence.

It is claimed that on some of the worst reefs there is an accident rate of 10 to 15 per cent among the craft used for the crossings. Once during a recent vice-regal cruise a party of 25 naval ratings was capsized in the surf and suffered coral cuts from the jagged reef.

VISITED EVERY ISLAND

In spite of these Lady Freyberg landed at every island. The transfer from the cruiser Bellona to the landing craft was in itself a tricky business. It meant a split second jump from the cruiser's gangway to the bottom of a native canoe tossing up and down in a 12-foot Pacific swell and often involved a wetting before the reef crossing was even begun. Then followed the hazardous run through the foaming surf of the reef and transfer to the shoulders of native bearers in the shallows, followed by the repetition of the procedure in reverse on the return journey.

Thousands of islanders regarded Lady Freyberg's contempt for danger in visiting them as a high compliment. They showed their appreciation by weaving her name into the fabric of their traditional songs of welcome.

In her cool disregard of danger Lady Freyberg is following the tradition of her husband whose exploits in two wars earned him an almost legendary reputation among New Zealanders. Called the "Empire's Salamander" by Mr. Churchill, he led the New Zealand forces throughout the Second World War.

Young Judge Says Women Beat Men

TORONTO (CP)—Take it from pretty Joan Pickard of Winnipeg, women are better than men at judging horses.

"Since more girls than boys take riding lessons, it seems logical they should be more competent to judge the classes in which junior riders compete," said Miss Pickard, here to represent Manitoba in the junior horse judging competition at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Woman Ship's Doctor Will Serve Homeland

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—As assistant-surgeon in the liner Orontes, a 26-year-old Sydney woman recently returned to Australia after two years in Britain.

She is tall, fair Dr. Joan Redshaw, formerly senior resident medical officer at Woking and District Hospital in Surrey, and subsequently house surgeon at the Hospital for Sick Children in Great Ormond Street, London, which post she left to become the first woman doctor appointed as a ship's surgeon by the Orient Company.

Back in Australia, Dr. Redshaw plans to specialize in pediatrics to benefit the children of her own country.

Man Wins Because Wife Entered Name

TORONTO (CP)—A mere male won the pancake-making contest at the Canadian National Exhibition here Wednesday, but a woman was partly responsible for his success. Clerk A. M. W. Samuels of suburban Mimico out-flipped 40 women contestants and won a $50 prize. Then he admitted his wife had entered him in the contest.

Victoria Girl Now Hollywood Designer

Miss Mary Grant, noted Hollywood designer, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Grant, Trutch Street.

"Costumes designed by Mary Grant."

To many Victorians who have attended the moving picture "Up In Central Park," and seen the above in the title, the name "Mary Grant" will ring a familiar chord in memory.

Miss Grant came from China with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Grant, Trutch Street. She attended Monterey and Victoria High schools, and then studied dancing under Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, formerly of Victoria.

Early in 1938, she left for Seattle, where she enrolled at the Cornish School, majoring in modern dancing, and also studying drama and radio. While at the school, Miss Grant realized that she was just a little too tall, to become a dancer, so she left for New York where she would have an opportunity of becoming associated with the theatre.

There she studied with Elizabeth Hawes, one of the leading dress designers.

She attended a play for which costumes had been designed by Raoul de Bois, outstanding designer of theatrical costumes, and it was then she knew that her greatest ambition was to create beautiful costumes and she set about to meet the designer.

The most exciting moment of her life came when he chose her out of thousands of applicants, to become his assistant. While studying with du Bois, she worked on many Broadway productions, including "Du Barry Was a Lady."

The ambitious young lady also found time to study color and design at Mills College, Calif., and returning to New York set up headquarters and designed many spectacular costumes for a number of Broadway productions, including "Mexican Hayride."

Specializing mainly in color and mass costumes, Miss Grant was invited to come to Hollywood, where she designed costumes for the movie "Princess and the Pirates" starring Bob Hope.

She has just completed work on "Up In Central Park," which was originally scheduled for technical color, and is still in Hollywood designing costumes for a new vehicle.

Miss Grant has one brother, John, a landscape designer in Seattle, and a sister, Mrs. R. H. Davidson, Linden Avenue.

Court Whist At Sooke

Entertainment for the fall season at Sooke commences with a court whist card party, sponsored by Holy Trinity Church, Sooke, on Tuesday, commencing at 8 o'clock, in the Sooke community dining-room. Refreshments will be served and prizes awarded. In charge of arrangements are Mesdames E. Nixon, F. L. Paddon, J. Collins, G. H. Jones, Messrs F. L. Paddon and J. Pickering.

No One Designer Sets Fall Styles, Declare Buyers

PARIS (Reuter)—Interviews with a cross-section of foreign buyers attending the Paris autumn fashion collections appear to indicate an unanimous verdict that no one designer can be powerful enough to set the styles for any given season.

The buyers state Paris fashions are still a great inspiration to the world markets. But they believe that in spite of Christian Dior, the extravagance that typified the "new look" is finished.

Nevertheless, they are unanimous in their praise for the boldness of his designs and they declare that, tradition or not, he is one of the greatest designers the world has ever known.

Dior, greatest of the pupils of the famous Lucien Lelong—who recently retired not only from the presidency of the Chambre Syndicale De La Couture which rules the Paris fashion houses, but also from the fashion world itself—skyrocketed to fame four seasons ago.

Today, he is upsetting the traditions of Paris couture by presenting a collection of models which no amount of copying or interpreting can adjust into a current mode in conjunction with styles from the other houses.

Word pictures, flying to the four corners of the earth, have told what Paris can offer. The directoire, the famous dresses of Napoleon's Empress Josephine, the slight touch of the 1920's are all to be seen in Paris this autumn. But not at Dior's.

Reports from at least 20 buyers from dollar countries can be summed up most effectively in the words of Doren Day, one of the foremost authorities on women's fashions as well as buyer for one of the largest group of department stores:

"Lovely clothes at Dior's; but we did not buy as heavily as we did in previous seasons."

And it is the buyers who, in the final analysis, accept the trends and bring them to the doorstep of every land. They have not rejected Dior's wings and stand-alone silhouette. But they are buying warily and carefully.

Salad Ring—On a warm day a big salad ring of sparkling gelatin looks mighty cool and tempting. How about sections of grapefruit and pale summer melon with wedges of bright red tomato in cool lime gelatin? Upmold it on crisp greens and serve tart French dressing separately.

Dorothy Dix

WIVES DESERVE DIVERSION

Dear Miss Dix: I am one of the innumerable young mothers with children who have spent every day and every night in the home with the kids, while our husbands dillydally around from place to place. Don't you think it only fair that husbands should stay, at least, two nights a week at home in order to talk over the problems concerning their families?

We would like to go out once in a while, too, and have a little entertainment, but our husbands always have some engagement that they can't possibly break.

We wouldn't mind staying at home so much, but we get lonely with nobody to talk to, because, no matter how much you love your little children, they are not exciting company.

We love our husbands dearly, but we would like to see some new faces now and then and know what's going on outside of the four walls of our homes. Can you suggest any way that we can compromise and get our husbands to give us a break?

BRESDA.

Answer: I get hundreds of letters like this from wives whose husbands feel that they have done their full duty to their wives by paying the bills. They put on their hats as soon as they have had their dinners and go forth to enjoy themselves and leave their wives to be nothing but baby-sitters. They never talk to them. They never show any interest in them. They never take them to places of amusement, or do anything to make life happy and contented for them.

MEN ARE THOUGHTLESS

One wonders what made these men marry at all if they had no taste for domesticity. You can understand very easily why a man who has worked hard all day does want some relaxation and to see fresh faces and do interesting things, but Friend

Wife has the same desires. She, too, is young and would like to go out and have a good time now and then. But she doesn't get to do it. It is a pitiful thing that a good man is so often a bad husband.

My suggestion to you would be to tell your husband that you are going to have a certain night off every week, and that he will have to stay at home and take care of the children. And stick by your resolution. Probably he doesn't realize himself how selfish he is being.

FROM HEAD TO TOE—LIFEBUOY STOPS "B.O."

UGLY DENIZEN CAUGHT—N. MacSween of 1351 Merritt Street, shown with a five-foot fish that Dr. Clifford Carl of the Provincial Museum identifies as a "wolf-eel." The ugly creature was caught Thursday by Mr. MacSween near Bechey Head in 45 fathoms of water while he was fishing for cod from his boat Royal K.

Comics Magazines In U.S. To Censor Own Pages

NEW YORK (AP)—Part of the United States comics magazine industry is preparing to set up a censorship office to police its own product.

Under similar circumstances a quarter of a century ago, film producers recognized the need to hold their new business within rigid lines of good taste. A few films had offended and the whole industry was getting a black eye. The result was the Hays Office.

MANY ATTACKS

At the moment, comics book publishers—whose total output is some 60,000,000 magazines a month—are under attack by parents, educators, law enforcement officials, church and women's organizations. They are accused of contributing to juvenile delinquency, violating good taste, underlining and making attractive crime and immorality. The critics are hunting with buckshot and the innocent, as usual, are among the wounded.

The Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America—the Hays Office—was born late in 1922. The Fatty Arbuckle and Mable Normand cases were fresh in the public's mind, and the vogue in films was the torrid, incense-burning stuff of the Theda Bara school. Theatre admissions were pegged at a nickel or a dime—and children were among the heaviest patrons. Criticism started.

The public started staying away.

It was a single factor, however, that in both cases spurred the two industries into cleaning their own houses: local censorship. Censorship of comic books is more than a threat. Almost 50 cities through the U.S. sale of certain comics magazines has been banned.

12 MEMBERS SO FAR

To meet this situation, the Association of Comics Magazines has been formed. Its initial membership constitutes 12 publishers responsible for about one-third of the industry's output.

Now in the works is a code which all publishers will be urged to follow.

Briefly, the code will demand publication of "good wholesome entertainment or education, and in no event include . . . comics" that may in any way lower the moral standards of those who read them.

Specifically outlawed are:
1. Sexy, wanton material.
2. Drawings showing a female indecently or unduly exposed—"and in no event more nude than in a bathing suit commonly worn in the United States."

NO UNFAVORABLE LIGHT

3. Portrayal of crime in such a way as to place law and justice in an unfavorable light or to inspire persons to imitate wrongdoers.

4. Presentation of details and methods of committing crimes.
5. Depicting law enforcement officials or respected institutions in an unfavorable light, or weakening respect for them.

6. Scenes of sadistic torture or violence.
7. Divorce when treated humorously or as glamorous and alluring.

8. Ridicule of any religious or racial group.

Say Television Has Opponents In Britain

LONDON (AP)—The BBC said Thursday that television in Britain is being held back by opposition from what it termed "certain interests."

The BBC said telecasts from theatres had "developed less rapidly because of the opposition from outside interests" and added that "certain interests have been opposed to the television of sports."

But the corporation, in its annual report, said that in the year ended March 31 more than 100 plays had been televised from studios, including "Hamlet" and "Pygmalion."

The BBC declared many sports events had been telecast during the year, including the Wimbledon lawn tennis championships, cricket test matches and a number of other top events.

The BBC said there were 45,564 television licenses in effect. Radio listeners pay a license fee of £1 ($4), a year and an extra £1 is charged for television.

Molotov Delivers Chief Oration At Zhdanov Funeral

MOSCOW (CP)—The body of Andrei A. Zhdanov was buried in the Kremlin wall Thursday night after one of the Soviet's most magnificent funerals.

Prime Minister Stalin, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Lavrenti P. Beria and other leading Politburo members and Soviet citizens personally bore the body to its last resting place, and Molotov delivered the chief funeral oration before a huge crowd which packed Moscow's Red Square.

Molotov, Beria and Zhdanov all had been considered leading contenders to inherit Stalin's power.

As they lowered the coffin the guns of the Kremlin rolled out a three-salvo final salute, and 100,000 Russians who had packed Red Square stood silent.

The body was carried to the square from the Hall of Columns, where more than 1,000,000 Russians had viewed the remains on the bier.

Walking slowly, Stalin and the others mounted the top of Lenin's tomb, whence Molotov spoke on behalf of the Politburo and Council of Ministers in laudatory terms of the deceased.

The death of Zhdanov, a secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party who died Tuesday of heart trouble, was a "great loss" to Russia, Molotov said.

Obviously referring to his leading role in organizing the Cominform, Molotov said Zhdanov had performed "glorious services in welding together the forces of international anti-imperialist and democratic camp against all and sundry war incendiaries."

New Agreements For Burns Workers

CALGARY (CP)—New working agreements covering the seven Burns packing plants were completed Thursday night, granting 9.6 per cent wage boosts to members of the United Packing House Workers of America (C.I.O.).

Disclosure of the two-year contract was made by Fred Dowling, Canadian director of the union, following three days negotiations.

Plants in Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Prince Albert, Sask., Regina, Winnipeg and Kitchener, Ont., are affected. The union had asked a 15-per-cent boost across the board. It received increases ranging from seven to 13 cents, assuring minimum wages for women of 80½ cents and for men of 93 cents. In addition, workers are guaranteed pay for 36½ hours a week.

In future, wage rates will be negotiated between the company and union in place of the former company-set rates. The wage clause of the contract may be reopened before July 31, 1950, expiration date of the contract.

The wage boost was in line with similar increases granted Canada Packers and Swift Canadian employees earlier.

Effects Of Crash Victims Looted

FOUNTAIN CITY, Wis. (AP)—Widespread looting of personal effects of the 37 persons who died in the crash of a Northwest Airlines passenger plane near here last Sunday was reported Thursday by Henry Stohr, Buffalo County coroner.

Several rings and some jewelry were known to be missing and several empty purses also had been found, Stohr said.

The coroner blamed a report that an "extremely valuable" air express package was missing for an influx of looters.

"I never knew there were so many ghoulies in the world," Stohr said. "They even took teeth that had gold fillings in them."

Those killed included Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Plummer of Flin Flon, Man.

A 24-hour guard, armed with shotguns, has been posted at the wreck scene while authorities continue search of the area.

Peace Eventually Will Come—Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said Thursday he still was hopeful of an eventual permanent peace.

Speaking on the third anniversary of the Japanese surrender aboard the U.S.S. Missouri in Tokyo Bay, the President said he had hoped then there would have been a final peace settlement by now.

"We are still working for that peace, and eventually we will get it," he told a press conference.

Mr. Truman would not comment on the progress of the four-power talks at Moscow, or on the negotiations at Berlin.

TO DISPLAY JET PLANES—Victorians, like the young lady above, will have a chance to view swish-and-scream Vampire jet planes that have been zooming over the city at intervals during the past few months when the Victoria Flying Club presents its second annual air show at Patricia Bay Airport Sept. 18. The speedy R.C.A.F. fighters will be on display during the afternoon while other types of aircraft are performing aerobatics, towing a glider and dropping parachutes and balloons above. Working in conjunction with the flying club in putting on the show are members of the Kinsmen Club.

Italy's New Republican Army Carries Out First Manoeuvres

ROME (AP)—Italy's republican army is undergoing field training in its first manoeuvres, nearly five years from the day when a few companies lined up with the Allied armies in southern Italy to drive the Germans from their homeland.

The battered Italian army was then at its lowest ebb. There was no equipment, no arms, not even barracks left. Retrained and re-equipped with surplus Allied weapons and stores, the few companies grew to regiments and divisions. When the peace treaty cut down Italy's armed forces to 200,000 men, the defence ministry had the opportunity to weed out dead wood and cut red tape.

When the new Italian army paraded in Rome for the first time, a few weeks before the April general election, it surprised everybody. Big classes coming up with conscription allowed medical officers to choose carefully the few men they needed.

The soldiers are better equipped, better fed and better housed than in pre-war and Fascist times. With only one armed force to look after—instead of the army and Fascist militia—Italy's efforts are centred on building up the morale of these new soldiers, called to be ready only for defence.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

For Italian boys of 20 now reporting for service, their 18-month period in the armed forces will be a sort of high-grade physical education.

Defence Minister Rinaldo Ossola said the Republican Party recently completed a tour of northern Italy's garrisons in advance of the summer manoeuvres in the Po valley. For the first time since the war, Italian motorized units are carrying out tactical exercises in the field on the northern Italian plain between Verona and the Adige and Po rivers.

Find $58,000 In Gold Bullion

NEW YORK (AP)—A wooden box containing $58,000 in gold bullion was found today at La Guardia Field five minutes after it dropped unheeded from an unloading truck.

The box was one of 17 containing a shipment of bullion valued at $986,888. It arrived by Eastern Airlines plane Thursday from the Banco de la Republica Sucursal, Medellin, Colombia, for the Federal Reserve Bank here.

The gold was being transferred by truck to a hangar when the box fell off. Monitors making a routine check of the field found it.

Art Exhibit

The "first week of September exhibition," at the Art Gallery and Studio, 1112½ Douglas Street, open until next Tuesday from 10.30 to 6, includes exhibits ranging from oils, watercolors, pastels, wood-block prints, weaving, tempera, charcoal, to framed clay flower pictures.

The subjects include portraits, landscapes, dogs, horses, flowers, mountains, landscapes from B.C. to five Mexican subjects by three exhibitors.

National Policy Covering Fine Arts Needed—MacMillan

TORONTO (CP)—A national policy toward the fine arts is a "crying need" in Canada, Sir Ernest MacMillan, dean of music at the University of Toronto, said here Thursday.

What is needed is "a consistent fostering of the fine arts coupled with a wide dissemination of information regarding our activities," he said in a speech at a Canadian National Exhibition luncheon.

"We are still far behind most countries in adopting it. As conductor of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra I receive an increasing number of scores year by year from Canadian composers and would welcome more opportunities of bringing many of them before the public."

He told of his "pleasure" last January in conducting a complete program of works by Canadian composers.

"It was well received by those who heard it and its broadcast . . . roused much interest from coast to coast, but it must be confessed that the concert-going public did not respond as we had hoped," he said. "We still need to become conscious as a people of the importance of creative work, for in the long run it is creation rather than performance that 'places' a people musically."

Drew Not Contesting Seat Before Sept. 29

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Drew will not contest a provincial by-election in Ontario before the federal convention of the Progressive Conservative Party in Ottawa Sept. 29.

The Premier is considered a contender for the national party leadership to succeed John Bracken. He was defeated in Toronto-High Park riding by William Temple, C.C.F. candidate, in the June 7 Ontario general election.

Alex Lewis, clerk of the Ontario Legislature, said Thursday was the last day the government could issue a writ for a by-election in time to have it held before a new leader for the Progressive Conservative Party is named Oct. 2.

Kelp Extraction Industry For B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A small-scale kelp extraction and processing industry may be set up in British Columbia following the lengthy research by the B.C. Research Council.

A progress report issued by the council Thursday states a sufficient number of kelp marine deposits are commercially available in B.C. mainland coastal waters to justify establishment of an "alginate extraction" industry.

Algin is an extraction of kelp, used in the manufacture of ice cream and bakery products.

Will Defend Davis Cup For United States

Ted Schroeder, Gardner Mulloy, Billy Talbert and Frank Parker, left to right, defend the Davis Cup for the United States against Australia starting Saturday at Forest Hills. Schroeder and Parker will handle the singles, Mulloy and Talbert the doubles.

Schroeder Faces Big Test In Cup Tennis

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Schroeder and the United States Davis Cup selection committee will be squarely on the spot in the challenge round against Australia starting tomorrow at Forest Hills.

In choosing Schroeder to share the singles burden with Frankie Parker, the selection committee simply "played the percentage." It picked a player who in the last two years has won three challenge-round singles matches against the Aussies while losing none.

But at the same time, it also picked a player who has had almost no top competitive tennis for the last year and who plainly is far below his best form. In two tournaments since he came east to get in shape, Schroeder was beaten badly by Parker and by Victor Seixas.

Possibly the nimble Californian will catch fire when he faces captain Adrian Quist of the challengers in the second of tomorrow's opening singles matches. He is a clutch player who can rise to the heights when, something big is at stake, and that undoubtedly is what swayed the committee.

TALBERT PLAYS WELL

The alternative would have been to name Billy Talbert. Talbert has been playing brilliant tennis. However, Talbert and Gardner Mulloy are a cinch to face the Aussies in the doubles Sunday, and the selectors might also have had that in mind.

Parker rates a heavy favorite to defeat Billy Sidwell, newest of the Australian cup performers, in tomorrow's first match.

Quist will not name his doubles team until tomorrow, but the feeling is strong that he will pair himself with Colin Long. The latter is the husky, bespectacled slugger who helped Jack Bromwich trim Schroeder and Jack Kramer in last year's cup doubles.

N.H.L. Governors Finally Approve Pension Scheme

MONTREAL (CP)—Governors of the National Hockey League yesterday launched player pension and insurance plans and talked of a possible 70-game schedule for each club in 1949-50.

Conn Smythe, general manager of Toronto Maple Leafs, proposed at the governors' semiannual meeting here that the present schedule be lengthened from 60 to 70 games.

No change was made in the already prepared 1948-49 schedule, and the proposal was held over to the governors' next meeting in the spring.

The hockey moguls gave formal approval to the long heralded pension plan, retroactive to the 1947-48 season. It is a contributory scheme, with the amount of the benefits depending on the player's length of service.

Contracts were awarded for the group insurance scheme, which amounts to a $10,000 straight life policy on each player.

Adoption of the 70-game schedule would probably mean a boost of about 10 per cent in players' salaries.

Back in 1924-25, the five clubs then forming the league—Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Canadiens and Montreal Maroons—each played 30 games.

When New York Americans and Pittsburgh came in the following season, the schedule went up to 36. After that it rose to 44 in 1926-27, 48 in 1931-32, 50 in 1942-43, and 60 in 1946-47.

Full schedule for the coming season will be announced next week. Chicago Black Hawks are already scheduled to open at Detroit Red Wings Oct. 13, and Rangers will meet Canadiens Oct. 17 at Toronto.

Horseshoe Pitchers In Doubles Tourney

In the horseshoe pitching doubles competition for the Remie and Taylor Cup Jago and Kersey beat McKenzie and Bryce and McKeechne and Bell won from Green and Holmes.

McKeechne and Bell will meet the winners of the match between McDonald and Clarke and Gordiner and Fisher in the finals Tuesday night on the pitches located on Opal St.

Draw the city doubles championship will be made Monday night.

The island championships scheduled to open Monday will be run off at a later date.

Arthur King Will Fight In Britain

LONDON (CP)—That on-again-off-again fight between Billy Thompson and Lefty Arthur King is on again—this time in Britain.

It was announced today that Toronto's King, lightweight boxing champion of Canada, will meet Thompson at Manchester Oct. 1 for the British Empire title. Thompson holds the British and European lightweight crowns.

Thompson and King were originally scheduled to meet in Canada last June but the match was called off following a dispute over officials.

Propst Finds Way To Stop Bluejackets

Blanks League Leaders; Frank Nelson Scores 21st Victory For Spokane

The victory pattern over the league-leading Bremerton Bluejackets has been set.

Little Jim Propst, the south paw smoothie, did the trick last night in the Navy Yard city with a five-hit, 4 to 0 shutout over the Jacktars.

It was Propst's 10th win of the season and served to again tighten up the W.I.L. pennant fight.

Spokane Indians, taking advantage of the Bremerton loss and their own 5 to 0 triumph over Wenatchee Chiefs, moved another game closer to the Jacktars, the combination shaving Bremerton's lead over the Indians to three and a half games.

The A's now trail the tars by six and a half games and the Indians by three.

Victoria went out and got Propst his four-run lead—one of the biggest he has enjoyed all season—in the first five innings bunching seven hits from the offerings of Keith Simon effectively.

After Sal Recca and Propst had walked in the third inning, Charlie Balassi singled to drive home Recca. Propst then scored on Vic Buccola's outfield fly.

Three consecutive singles by Babe Jensen, Dick Morgan—back in left field again—and Recca

Chicago Cubs Rough On Flag Contenders

They aren't going any place themselves, but the Chicago Cubs are having plenty to say in deciding the National League pennant race.

Mired in the basement almost from the start of the campaign, the Cubs have assumed the role of "spoilers" with a vengeance. They are raising havoc with the league leaders.

First they threw a monkey wrench into the pennant plans of the New York Giants, then the St. Louis Cardinals, then the Boston Braves and now the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Back on June 9 the Giants were sitting in the driver's seat, enjoying a two-game lead on the Cardinals. The Cubs proceeded to knock the Polo Grounders right out of first place by taking three out of four.

On June 29 the Cardinals were waging a neck-and-neck struggle with the Braves for the top rung. The Cubs promptly knocked the Cards off three straight.

Only a week ago, the Braves, still riding high, were whipped by the Cubs three out of four: to set the stage for Brooklyn's wrestling of the league lead from Boston the next day.

THREE OF FOUR
The Dodgers came to town last Tuesday expecting to fatten up on the cellar-dwellers. The Cubs set them back on their heels by sweeping both ends of a double-header. The Brooks bounced back the next day to shut out the Cubs.

Instead of folding up, the Grizzlies clawed back yesterday, edging out Burt Shotton's pennant-minded crew, 7 to 6, to win the series, three games to one.

The defeat cut Brooklyn's first-place margin over the runner-up Braves to two percentage points. The Cards, in third place, are only a game and a half behind, and the fourth place Pittsburgh Pirates trail by three games.

The Pirates lost an opportunity to pick up ground when they were beaten by the Giants, 5 to 4, in Pittsburgh. They were the only games played in the major leagues yesterday.

McKeechne and Bell will meet the winners of the match between McDonald and Clarke and Gordiner and Fisher in the finals Tuesday night on the pitches located on Opal St.

Draw the city doubles championship will be made Monday night.

The island championships scheduled to open Monday will be run off at a later date.

'Y' Track Squad Set For B.C. Title Meet

The British Columbia track and field team will officially come to a close Labor Day with the staging of the men's and women's provincial championships at Nanaimo.

Bruce Humber's Y.M.C.A. squad, strengthened by the return of long-legged Cliff Salmon from the Olympic Games, stands a good chance to close out the year in a blaze of glory by winning the aggregate crown. Salmon is the favorite to knock off the mile and half-mile champions.

Defending champion Harry Mitchell will be out to retain his sprint title in the 100 and 200 yard events. Captain of the team, Mitchell will also anchor the undefeated relay team of Bob

Fighters Stalling Declares Referee Of Montreal Bout

MONTREAL (CP)—The scheduled 10-round non-title fight between Canadian welterweight boxing champion Johnny Greco and Larry Cisneros of Los Angeles, Calif., was called a "no contest" Thursday night in the fourth round.

Following three slow rounds, Cisneros fell to the canvas after a minute and 30 seconds of the fourth. Ringsiders did not see any blow struck and referee Maurice O'Connell immediately declared a "no contest" without calling a count.

"The boys were only stalling," O'Connell said.

Promoter Raoul Godbout charged after the fight that O'Connell had been ordered by the Montreal Athletic Commission to stop the fight "because of the dispute between myself and the commission."

The commission previously tried to have the bout canceled on grounds Cisneros was not a fit opponent for Greco.

WENT TO COURT
Godbout obtained a Superior Court writ permitting him to stage the bout as scheduled without commission interference. He topped it off by starting a $5,000 damage suit against the commission.

Commission chairman Dave Rochon, a member of the provincial legislative assembly, then claimed there was new evidence to offer and was granted another hearing at which the matter would be thrashed out anew.

That was the way matters stood when the two fighters stepped into the ring, Greco at 150 and Cisneros at 143½.

WATERBURY, Conn. — Willie Pep, 129, Hartford, Conn., stopped Johnny Dell, 133, Brooklyn (8-non-title).

Hutchison, Rafael Duke and Gordy Pynn.

Hutchison will compete in the junior sprints and broad jump and off his season form rates a splendid chance to capture the aggregate championship. Pynn will enter the junior 100 and broad jump.

Pat Fleming's stiffest competition in the high jump will come from Vancouver's Shirley Gordon, who took part in the Olympic trials at Montreal. Dawn Josephs, "Y" junior star, will be out to better her mark of 16 feet 11½ inches in the junior broad jump. She will also contest the high jump. Other fair sex members of the "Y" team include Lynn Newton, Shirley Knowlton and Val Brown.

Philadelphian — Eddie Giosa, 137, Philadelphia, outpointed Paity Brandino, 141, Hamilton, Ont. (8).

trouble with Propst as the radio announcer had with his name, got two of the five blows in the sixth inning. And that was the only inning in which the Jacktars seriously threatened.

Second game of the home and home, eight-game series is scheduled for Bremerton again tonight

Will Give Any Course At College Night Classes If Interest Shown

Any first or second-year university course for which there is sufficient registration will be given at the evening division of Victoria College which opens Sept. 21.

This was announced today by Prof. Robert T. Wallace who stated seven courses have been advertised, but others will be given by professors of the faculty if enough interest is shown.

Courses already listed are first-year English, psychology, mathematics, economics, physics; beginners' Spanish, and second-year French.

These courses will be given by Prof. R. J. Bishop, English; Prof. W. H. Geddes, psychology; Prof. Wallace, mathematics; Prof. A. A. P. Dawson, economics; Prof. W. H. Hughes, physics; Dr. A. L. Wells, Spanish, and Dr. W. Harry Hickman, French.

Should sufficient registrations be received for philosophy courses, Dr. J. M. Ewing, college principal, will teach. Similarly Prof. S. G. Pettit will be available for sociology or any of the history courses.

Prof. Dawson, who will give the economics course, is a newcomer to the college this year.

The evening classes will be held twice a week, Tuesday and Thursday, from 7.30 to 9.30. Registrations will be accepted at the registrar's office at the college between those hours from Sept. 7 to 10 inclusive.

Full university credits will be given on successful completion of courses by students registered as "regular students." No credits will be granted to those registered as "auditors."

The fee for auditors will be half that of regular students, $20.

Because he had no insurance card, a car owned by Mervil Schwartz, 1045 Vista Heights, was impounded by city police last night after it had been in collision with a truck owned by Duncan Lee, 3143 Quadra Street, at 9.15 last night on Quadra near Finlayson Street. Police said the car sustained extensive damage to the right front fender.

Saanichton Fair Expected To Be Biggest In Years

A cowboy show and one of the best saddle horse competitions held in years will be two of the outstanding features of the 80th Fall Fair of Saanichton on Monday, according to Stuart G. Stoddart, secretary-treasurer of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society.

Mr. Stoddart said there were many entries for the saddle horse competitions. The event was expected to attract hundreds of people interested in horses in the surrounding district, he said. Highland dancing and piping, under the direction of Maj. J. A. Dewar, will also be held. Sports and games for children will be held in the afternoon.

The fair will be opened by J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture.

TWO THOUSAND ENTRIES

To date there are 2,000 entries and indications are that it will be the largest fair ever held at Saanichton. Fair officials expect a good livestock show and exhibition of women's work.

Mrs. A. Doney is general convener of the ladies' fair committee, assisted by Mrs. Willard Michell. Judges for the various exhibits and competitions are as follows: Col. R. Richmond, saddle horse competition; O. C. Evans of Chilliwack, Jersey cattle; R. L. Williamson of Courtenay, Holstein and Ayrshire; Harry L. Reid of Vancouver and A. Sansbury of the Saanich Experimental Farm, poultry; F. P. Boucher, rabbit.

J. J. Woods, superintendent of the Experimental Farm, will judge grain and grasses, field roots and potatoes. E. R. Hall will judge the fruit exhibits.

The flower section will be judged by Mr. Howard and George Robinson of Elk Lake.

Amusement Tax Resolution Before U.B.C.M. From City

Resolutions on the amusement tax, local improvement act and the city's borrowing power will be taken to the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention opening in Harrison Hot Springs Tuesday for three days, by Mayor Percy George, city solicitor A. J. Patton and Aldermen F. G. Mulliner, D. D. McTavish, Dr. J. D. Hunter and M. A. Kent.

Mayor George, first vice-president of the U.B.C.M., will be in Harrison on Monday to attend executive meetings prior to the opening of the 45th convention Tuesday morning.

The mayor and city delegates will bring to the convention an invitation from the council to hold the 1949 convention in Victoria.

The Victoria resolution on the amusement tax asks that at least 50 per cent of all amounts received from the tax be paid over to the municipalities.

Horticultural Show Opens At Crystal

Despite unfavorable weather, members of the Victoria Horticultural Society have produced some fine flowers, fruits and vegetables for exhibition in their annual fall show which opened at 1 this afternoon in the lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden.

Flowers in the show include chrysanthemums, dahlias, mimosas, daisies, roses, asters and gladioli. This year's show also includes a special exhibit entered by the Victoria Begonia Society, and a number of commercial displays.

Size is the keynote in the vegetable displays. Beans 15 inches in length, potatoes weighing over a pound, and turnips the size of volley balls are just a few of the things to be seen.

Judges of this year's fall show are F. A. Saunders, W. Hamilton, W. Darling, head gardener at Government House, Mrs. D. D. McTavish, R. M. Anderson, Dominion government experimental station, and Mrs. F. B. Robinson. The show is open to the general public until 9.30 tonight and from 10 to 9.30 Saturday.

Exhibits will be auctioned off at the conclusion of the show Saturday night.

City To Study $1.35 Bus Pass Proposal At Meeting Today

A weekly pass, non-transferable, at $1.35, four tickets for 30 cents, 10 cent cash fare and universal transfer are proposals of the Greater Victoria transportation committee, which will be placed before a special meeting of aldermen in City Hall chambers this afternoon, Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman, announced today.

The proposals were reached following a three-hour meeting Thursday afternoon, between members of the Greater Victoria transportation committee, representing municipal councils; W. C. Mainwaring, B.C. Electric vice-president, and Harold Husband, managing director of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd.

The Greater Victoria transportation committee will recommend to representatives of the municipal councils of Greater Victoria, the adoption of revised rates, subject to approval of the Public Utilities Commission.

The bus companies will be asked to furnish a concrete and accurate statement of their transportation business up to March 1, 1949, whereupon, matters referred to would be reviewed by the committee with a view to such changes as the conditions would happen to warrant at the time, the resolution continued.

The proposals to be made to council this afternoon follow months of dispute over the bus companies for higher fares and abolition of the pass.

EXPECT PASS CONTINUANCE

"We feel the public will expect continuance of the pass as a matter of principle," Ald. Diggon said.

"The committee was able to reach an agreement and if council will agree to the proposals presented to them and recommend to the Public Utilities Commission that they be adopted, it may be a means of retaining the pass which might otherwise be eliminated."

Special meetings of municipal councils will be held immediately to study the proposals of the Greater Victoria transportation committee, Ald. Diggon said.

Skills Opposes $1.35 Pass

Charge that W. C. Mainwaring, B.C. Electric Company vice-president "threatened" the Greater Victoria transportation committee at its meeting Thursday afternoon, that if the offer of $1.35 weekly pass was refused, the offer of a pass in Victoria would be withdrawn, was made by Ald. Waldo Skillings, member of the committee today.

Proposals, including a weekly pass of $1.35 will go before a special meeting of aldermen in city council chambers this afternoon.

Ald. Skillings was the sole opponent at the meeting Thursday with the city representatives and those of Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt agreeing, stated that he would oppose the move again today.

"I will not agree to the $1.35 pass proposal," Ald. Skillings said. "I feel the hands of the company have been immeasurably strengthened by the findings of the Public Utilities Commission at Vancouver, which allowed elimination of the weekly pass there."

"Mr. Mainwaring met our committee two weeks ago and we all agreed to a $1.25 weekly pass and four tickets for 30 cents. On his return to Vancouver, he asked the chairman of the transportation committee not to tell the council of the arrangements until after the Public Utilities Commission met in Vancouver on B.C.E. Company's application for revised rates."

"The Public Utilities Commission gave the B.C. Electric all the fare increases they asked for with no weekly pass," Ald. Skillings said.

"They then returned to Victoria and turned back on the verbal agreement they had made in committee."

Ald. Skillings stated that he felt a 25 per cent increase in the weekly pass was sufficient at this time inasmuch as the company had not as yet implemented the full services as outlined in the franchise.

"The citizens of Victoria should be given a chance to see the full service implemented," he said.

"Mr. Mainwaring threatened our committee that if it refuses the offer of $1.35, the company will withdraw the offer of the pass entirely and go to the P.U.C. with their original submissions containing no pass."

"I don't go for threats when negotiations break down."

MORAL OBLIGATION
Ald. Skillings said he felt the company had a moral obligation to maintain the pass.

"As an alderman and a taxpayer, I feel the company believes it has the Public Utilities Commission in its pocket."

He contended there was no comparison between the Victoria and Vancouver services, with the Victoria service providing comparatively shorter rides than in the much larger city of Vancouver.

"I am fighting for the low income bracket, for stenographers, office workers, government employees and others whose salaries are fixed and to whom a $1.35 weekly pass would be drastic," Ald. Skillings said.

He added that the B.C. Electric had asked that the three services of light and power, gas and transit be combined.

"The Public Utilities Commission ruled that each stand on its own feet, but all figures submitted to our committee have been based on the transit system operating as a separate unit," said Ald. Skillings.

"The Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, a month ago said the company could combine all its utilities and I feel that power and light should subsidize the transit service. The cheapest possible transit fares are in the public interest."

Peters Communist He Says, But Not Underground Head

NEW YORK (AP)—"J. Peters," who faces deportation and also a contempt-of-Congress charge, admitted being an active Communist in the United States.

He denied, however, testimony of government witnesses that he was a Soviet underground leader in the United States.

The admission came Thursday after the conclusion of a four-day deportation hearing at which Peters had remained silent.

Peters said in a statement: "Every day's headlines produce a new No. 1 Communist. This week, I, Alexander Stevens, was chosen as the new 'mystery' man. The outrageous slanders, falsehoods and distortions of the witnesses paraded before the immigration service hearing have been exposed time and again at other hearings."

"There is no mystery about me," Peters said in his statement. "I immigrated to this country like millions of others. Twice I applied for citizenship papers. They were denied me."

The government charges in its deportation proceedings that Peters entered the United States without a valid passport, and is a member of an organization advocating violent overthrow of the government.

Mrs. Tye Passes In 98th Year At Douglas St. Home

A widely-known and respected resident of Victoria for the past 55 years, Mrs. Alta Louise Tye, died Thursday at her home at 2631 Douglas Street in her 98th year.

Mrs. Tye, who was born Alta Louisa Galley in 1851, came to Canada from England as a child of three and to Victoria at the age of 12. The family spent nine years in Hamilton.

Mrs. Tye was married in 1874 at the age of 23 to the late Thomas Tye, co-founder of the pioneer hardware firm of Hickman-Tye, in the Douglas Street home she lived in until her death. She was pre-deceased by her husband in 1917, an only son, Thomas, in 1947, and by two brothers, Frederick and William Galley.

She was a member of St. John's Anglican Church. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. S. H. Matson, Dunsmuir Street, and Mrs. A. G. Coles, Elford Street; four grandchildren, Robert Tye, 1505 Morrison Street; Mrs. Jack Melville, 954 Transit Road; Thomas Tye, 906 Linden Avenue and Derek Tye, Nelson, B.C. H. T. Matson, 819 Dunsmuir, and Mrs. P. A. Cousland, 875 Dunsmuir, are nephew and niece.

Funeral services will be held at Hayward's (B.C.) Funeral Chapel on Tuesday at 1.30 p.m., with burial in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Veterans' Bill In Canada To Date $1,500,000,000

Out of the maze of complicated government accounting, the real and probable cost of looking after Canada's veterans of World War II is now beginning to emerge, says Kenneth R. Wilson, Ottawa correspondent for the Financial Post.

He stated that during the middle of August the bill added up to near the $1,500,000,000, "but that is not the end by any means, for before the 'capital outlay'—training, credits, etc.—is over, the bill will likely run into $2,000,000,000."

This amounts to $2,000 per veteran, he states, "and on top of everything else will be the annual pension bill—including World War I—of around $100,000,000," the writer says.

The outlay, Wilson reported, puts Canada well up on top of the list in generosity to returned men.

Victoria Groups In Port Angeles

Three Victoria groups are in Port Angeles today, marching in that city's Derby Day parade.

The three groups are the Victoria Girls' Drill Team, Victoria Eagles Girls' Drill Team and the Greater Victoria Youth Band.

Norman Foster, director of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team, and George Pyper, trainer of the Eagles' team, are accompanying the girls, while E. C. Tucker and George Bowers are accompanying the band.

The groups will return to Victoria Saturday.

Truck Drivers Get Increases In Wages

Members of the Truck Drivers' and Helpers' Union, Local 31 (A.F.L.) have accepted a 12 cents an hour across the board pay increase.

The increase was offered by employers through the Motor Transport Labor Relations Council, representing more than 40 employers in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, to the negotiating committee of the union.

The increase gives truck drivers $1.12 an hour, and semi-trailer and furniture van drivers $1.17 an hour.

It will take effect Sept. 16.

The increases mean a boost in transportation rates, said Gene L. Buckman, chairman of the Motor Transport Labor Relations Council. He said a financial survey of the industry shows an increase is required. Amount of the increases has not been determined but facts will be laid before regulatory officials immediately.

Convicted on a charge of being intoxicated while in charge of a car, R. J. Hoadley was sentenced to seven days in jail and his license was suspended for six months, by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today. Charge arose out of an accident accused had with a car driven by Maurice Braithwaite at the intersection of Cormorant and Douglas Streets near midnight Wednesday.

Weather Provides The 'If' To Holiday Travel Picture

"If" was the word travel agencies used most today in forecasting the volume of Labor Day week-end travel.

They expect traffic to be the heaviest this year . . . if the weather is good.

However, transportation companies are taking no chances and are ready to accommodate a heavy upward surge in the number of travelers to and from Vancouver Island over the holiday which will mark the end of the peak of the tourist season.

Starting today, Trans-Canada Airlines is running the first of 36 extra flights scheduled for the four-day period through to Monday, R. L. Williams, district traffic and sales manager here, said all available aircraft were being used to take care of the heavy travel expected but added that a lot would depend on the weather.

Although tourist travel is passing its peak for the year, T.C.A. as well as other transportation companies, do not expect the tourist travel to cease. The airline is keeping up full schedules through the month, with extra flights for the week-ends.

50 PER CENT OF PEAK

George Paulin, agent for the Black Ball Line here, also conditioned his evaluation of travel volume with a reference to the weather. Although expecting an upswing of traffic over the week-end, he noted that tourist travel has dropped considerably since the end of last week. He estimates it is now about 60 per cent of the peak during August and, although looking to a steady flow through the rest of this month, did not expect it to exceed 50 per cent of the mid-summer peak.

R. J. Burland, district passenger agent for the C.P.R., said the B.C. Coast Steamship Service would run an extra sailing out of Vancouver to Victoria Monday night to help take care of increased passenger traffic. The run will be made by Ss. Princess Norah.

Mr. Burland also announced that the E. and N. Railway would put on a special train to Nanaimo, leaving here at 9 Monday morning and leaving Nanaimo for the return trip at 7 the same evening.

Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd. is also looking forward to a good week-end of travel. As with others, though, company officials bore in mind the weather which, if good, should mean very good travel out to the Saanichton fair. Travel up and down the island is also expected to be heavy.

2 Men Involved In Shooting Up Mailbox Fined

Algerton Foster and Bruce McLeish, both of Brentwood, learned in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon that it is an expensive practice to try and make a sieve out of somebody else's mailbox with revolver bullets.

Foster pleaded guilty to doing wilful damage to E. Love's mailbox on Marchants Road by holding it with shots from a .32 calibre pistol on Aug. 22 and he was fined $50 by Magistrate H. C. Hall. McLeish was fined $25 for illegally having an unregistered revolver. He also pleaded guilty.

Premier Byron Johnson, Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb and Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer flew to Vancouver this morning to attend the funeral services of the late Mayor Charles Jones.

Rin Tin Tin III On Dominion Screen

Rin Tin Tin III, currently starring in the New PRC's Vitacolor film, "The Return of Rin Tin Tin," not only is a celebrity, but has many relatives who are likewise famous. Rin III, back from four years in the army where he won many decorations, is the grandson of the famed dog star of the 1920's. His father, also a movie star, was known as Rin Tin Tin II.

Truline Von Pondview, mother of Rin III, was killed in action in the South Pacific and was awarded the Purple Heart and a medal for bravery, posthumously. Actors in "The Return of Rin Tin Tin," now playing at the Dominion Theatre, include such favorites as Donald Woods, Bobby Blake and Claudia Drake.

ODEON THEATRE

For her role of the little Irish immigrant girl in "Up in Central Park," now at the Odeon Theatre, Deanna Durbin is using a brogue, the first time in her career she has affected an accent of any kind.

Her mentor for the Erin-go-bragh touch was Albert Sharpe, right from the auld sod, who plays her father in the picture which co-stars Deanna with Dick Haymes and Vincent Price.

"Up in Central Park," cinema version of the Broadway stage sensation, is lavishly presented by Universal-International. It was produced and written for the screen by Karl Tunberg.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Some men carry rabbits' feet, "Indian head" pennies or their kiddie's booties around for good luck charms. They wouldn't be caught dead without them.

Movie star Cesar Romero feels very much the same way about his mustache.

Following his triumphant portrayal of Herman Cortez in "Captain From Castile," Romero is currently to be seen in 20th Century-Fox's "Deep Waters." He plays the role of Dana Andrews' Portuguese partner in the film version of Ruth Moore's best-seller "Spoonhandle," currently at the Capitol Theatre. And, as in his past 35 pictures, Cesar sports a mustache in this one—a luxurious three-inch growth.

ATLAS THEATRE

Jane Powell moved into her new San Fernando Valley home recently prepared to learn all about farming. She had a chicken coop with four chickens—a cow barn—and a pig pen.

But the rains drowned her chickens—damaged the barn—and washed away her pig pen.

However, her biggest lament to Jeanette MacDonald and Jose Iturbi, her co-stars in M-G-M's technical musical, "Three Daring Daughters," now showing at the Atlas Theatre, was that the roof of the house leaked and water splattered over the walls and her bedroom leaked onto her desk and ruined one of her new books.

The book? "Farm Life's the Only Life!"

RIO THEATRE

"The Sea Hawk," the glorious saga of a Robin Hood of the seas, with Errol Flynn in the title role, begins a special return engagement today at the Rio Theatre.

Directed by Michael Curtiz from an original screenplay by Howard Koch and Seton I. Miller, "The Sea Hawk," features Claude Rains, Brenda Marshall, Alan Hale, Donald Crisp and Flora Robson, with a supporting cast of thousands. Original music for the film was composed by Erich Wolfgang Korngold.

ROYAL THEATRE

"Relentless," Columbia's strange and fascinating Technicolor drama of defiant love and deadly encounter in the High Sierras, is now at the Royal Theatre. It stars Robert Young and Marguerite Chapman, with Willard Parker and Akim Tamiroff in the principal featured roles. Other featured players are Barto MacLane, Mike Mazurki, Robert Barrat, Clem Bevans, Frank Fenton, Hank Patterson and Paul Burns.

OPENING DATE STILL IN DOUBT—Despite the fact good progress has been made during recent weeks on the city's Memorial Arena, no one is prepared to say whether or not the building will be ready for opening by the end of the year. Now the front cribbing is down, however, Victorians can at least see where they will be paying their money to enter the building when it is finished. Front and rear walls of the structure are now completed and only a little work remains to be done on the north wall. Only side not the enclosed is the south side, which faces on Caledonia Avenue. Installation of piping for freezing purposes will get underway Monday, Sept. 13, Ald. Waldo Skillings, chairman of the city's arena committee, announced today.

CPO's Keystones In Navy Training Of New Entries

CPO. F. W. Wenden, R.C.N.

CPO. C. H. Mills, R.C.N.

Inception of the Royal Canadian Navy's fall recruiting drive focuses attention on the senior ratings of the navy—the chief petty officers and petty officers on whom much of the work of training Canada's young sailors falls.

Every province in Canada has contributed its share in the provision of these non-commissioned officers of the R.C.N. Men who had never seen the broad expanses of the Pacific and Atlantic oceans until after they had joined the navy now take their places beside their counterparts from B.C. and the Maritimes, who grew up with the sea at their doorsteps, in the training of young sailors and the building of Canada's modern fleet.

Starting to man at the bottom of the ladder, they have advanced with the navy to the top positions on the lower deck and become the vital link between the officers and the men.

MANY RESPONSIBILITIES

They are instructors, responsible for the training of the men in their charge, whether in a classroom ashore or on the gun-platform of a destroyer.

They supervise the carrying out of orders for the countless evolutions involved in the handling of a naval ship. It is they who see the routines necessary for efficient operation of ships and establishments are carried out, 24 hours of the day.

They are men of experience, chosen not only for their knowledge but for their qualities of leadership, for their ability to gain respect. From them the young sailor learns not only his seamanship, his gunnery or submarine detection, by their example they implant in him a pride in the service and its traditions.

Prominent among British Columbians in this select company are CPO. F. W. Wenden and CPO. C. H. Mills. Thanks to the navy's system of basing men as close to their homes as possible, each is stationed at H.M. C.S. Naden, Esquimalt, where their careers in the services began.

Esquimalt has become "home" to thousands of men in the R.C.N., but CPO. Wenden was one of those rare exceptions—he lived here even before he presented himself at Naden in 1928 to sign on as an ordinary seaman.

FROM FARM TO SEA

The fact that he had been a farm worker as a civilian in no way detracted from his ability to plow the oceans and the outbreak of World War II found him a thoroughly experienced seaman and a man well qualified in gunnery. He was made an acting petty officer early in the war and was confirmed as chief petty officer in 1944.

He lives with his wife at 326 John Street.

CPO. Mills, born at Ladner, B.C., is only 36, yet is one of the senior men in his rating. Still a student, he enlisted as a boy seaman in 1929. He moved upward with unusual regularity. He was acting petty officer by 1937 and chief petty officer in 1940.

He qualified as a seaman torpedo man in 1933 and has followed this branch of the service throughout his career. Married, he lives at 375 Obed Avenue.

Randolph Scott Plans To Play Only In Western Movies

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Randolph Scott hasn't done anything but a Western in five years and he'll continue along the same line. "They're always popular," he observes, "because people cooped up in the city want to see the scenery." Now in "Canadian Pacific," he goes right into a saga of the Doolan boys of early Kansas.

UNCO-OPERATIVE

Hedy Lamarr is getting temperamental again. Although she will take 25 per cent of the profits of "Let's Live a Little," she won't co-operate in the publicity campaign. She even wanted to be paid for ad testimonials, whereas all other stars do them free.

SCRIPT TROUBLE

Jack Carson and Dennis Morgan didn't like the script for "Two Guys and a Gal" and both turned it down. Then director David Butler had the boys in for a talk and they worked out a whole new story. Two new writers were assigned and the picture is now shooting. If Dennis and Jack don't like the finished product, they can only blame themselves.

James Mason will doubtless turn down the "Tribby" film because his part is too tiny. Betty Garrett and Larry Parks still yearn to do a stage show together. At any rate, she says she'll take a New York offer next year, as her M.G.M. contract permits her. "I spent ten years becoming a star in New York and I'm not one here," she reasons.

OAK BAY—"Escape Me Never," starring Ida Lupino.

ODEON—Deanna Durbin in "Up in Central Park."

PLAZA—"Last of the Mohicans," starring Randolph Scott.

RIO—Errol Flynn in "The Sea Hawk."

ROYAL—Robert Young and Marguerite Chapman in "Relentless."

YORK INTERNATIONAL—"Variety Girl," starring Bing Crosby and Mary Hatcher.

YORK THEATRE

Mary Hatcher, at 18, is a sparkling, triple-threat newcomer of 1947 who can sing, dance and act. She does all three in the title role of "Variety Girl," Paramount's 42-star musical comedy now at the York Theatre. This amazing youngster holds her own with such veterans as Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Dorothy Lamour, Alan Ladd and all the other stars on the Paramount roster who contribute to the gigantic melody festival.

OAK BAY THEATRE

In one important scene of "Escape Me Never," now being shown at the Oak Bay Theatre, a group of pigeons were supposed to stroll back and forth in front of co-stars Eleanor Parker and Gig Young as part of a romantic sequence. When the property man released the pigeons, they refused to stroll and insisted on flying.

The property man complained to the pigeon's owner. "Oh," said the pigeon man, "I didn't know you wanted foreground pigeons, they are a different kind."

PLAZA THEATRE

With the presentation of "The Last of the Mohicans" and "Kit Carson" on a double bill, now at the Plaza Theatre, will bring to screen audiences two film classics which magnificently recreate exciting and important sequences from the pages of history as a young nation gallantly pushed ahead to fulfill its destiny.

CAPSULE REVIEW

"Julia Misbehaves" (M.G.M.) will allow Greer Garson fans to breathe more easily. It's an airy, laugh-filled bit of fluff that will delight pleasure-seeking audiences. Miss G. is subjected to all kinds of indignities with generally hilarious results. Assisting are Walter Pidgeon (naturally!), Cesar Romero, Peter Lawford and Elizabeth Taylor.

ORCHIDS TO A BUS DRIVER

HERE'S A STORY I like to relate... only wish I was MORE articulate. 'Twas on the Gorge bus, the passengers plenty, that THIS incident happened... about four-twenty. The date last Wednesday... Sept. one, this kind act... so graciously done. By the driver of this bus, who proved himself MORE... than courteous. As he pulled his bus to a gentle stop, not far from "Mac's" Coffee Shop. He noticed WHO it was, getting off, so he turned... his engine off. Then firmly fixed the emergency brake, then assisted this passenger the pavement to make. The rest of us watched... approving inside, in fact in our driver... feeling some pride. But soon our hearts felt a warmer glow, as across the street, we watched them both go. With this elderly man, kept out of harm, by holding firmly to the driver's arm. All was quite silent in our bus, as we watched this scene... in front of us. Which no one needed to explain, we all could see... the tapping white cane. Then back came our "host" and took his seat, I felt a choke & an extra heart-beat. I looked around, felt the silent out-go, of all wanting to shout... BRAVO... BRAVO.

GOT EVERYTHING... yes... this beautiful bedroom suite "has everything" that the far more costly have... first of all, it's got a whopper of a tilt mirror (as wide as the Vanity), a big chest... a full-size bed, and pretty upholstered bench. It's also available in twin beds, and in TWO finishes... the blonde or brunette on hardwood... Warehoused $119.00. (Trade yours in on this if U need to).

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

SEAL STOPS AIR ESCAPE 17 YEARS

"It's been working on the railroad for 17 years," an engi- neer said today as he showed your J-M reporter a set of Johns-Manville Packing. It had been used on an air compressor at a railroad power plant.

Packing acts as a seal on an air compressor. It keeps air from escaping and has to stand constant rubbing by moving parts. Yet this Johns-Manville Packing did 24-hour duty almost daily for 17 years.

You find long-wearing Johns-Manville packings in all kinds of machines—wherever a seal is needed to keep water, gas, oil and other liquids from leak- ing.

For over 75 years Johns-Manville has been making asbestos packings and gaskets to meet industries varied needs. If you have a packing problem, write Johns-Manville, 1206 Homer Street, Vancouver.

CONFUCIUS TESTED HIS IDEAS WHILE "MINISTER OF CRIME"

Confucius was about 50 years old when he became the governor of the city of Chung-tu. For more than a quarter of a century he had been telling his disciples, and others, how the government ought to be managed. Now there was great interest to see how he would carry on his work.

People with good ideas sometimes fall short when they try to put them into practice. In the case of Confucius, it was otherwise. He proved to be an excellent governor.

Hardly a year later, he was given a new office, being made "minister of crime" for the whole state of Lu. In modern times such an office might be called "minister of justice," or "secretary of the department of justice."

Stories which gather about a great man often "stretch" the truth. We are told that this Chinese leader stamped out all crime in the state of Lu, that he made all women good, and all men loyal.

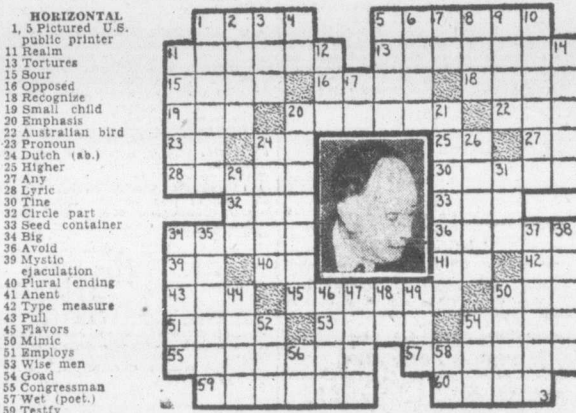

That would be too much to expect of any public officer. What probably happened was a lowering of the crime rate.

The name "Confucius" grew out of the Chinese words, "Kung Futz." The meaning is "Master Kung." He was the master, or teacher, for a great number of persons. One estimate tells us that he had 3,000 disciples, of whom 70 were set in a special class as fine scholars.

After four years as minister of crime, Master Kung gave up his office and started wandering into nearby parts of China. With him went some of his disciples. Whenever possible, he spoke with princes or public officers, and tried to plant good ideas of government in their minds.

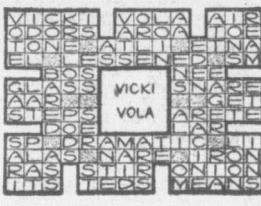

Thirteen years passed in that kind of wandering. Then the great teacher returned to Lu, his native state. He was now about 68 years old. He was asked to take public office again, but was not willing to do so. His death took place five years later, and he was buried in a cemetery near Kih-fow. From his teachings sprang the religion known as Confucianism.

PRISCILLA'S POPCanada's Tourist Total This Year Expected To Total 25,000,000

By CANADIAN PRESS
Two sets of figures released in Ottawa Thursday make good reading.
One estimates that the number of tourists visiting Canada this year may exceed 25,000,000 and that by season's close they will have spent $25,000,000.
That is a lot of money and the greater part of it is dollars of the United States, which should go a long way towards meeting Canada's ordinary trade deficit of dollars.

Another set of figures states Canada's employed are at a new peak, beyond the 5,000,000 mark, and that unemployed number only 91,000. Many of the latter may be regarded as persons in transition between jobs.
The report on employment, from the Department of Labor, states selected immigration and training schemes have supplied the skilled men for key jobs, and that jobs have been created for unskilled men and women.
"Consequently," says the department, "this year workers have been fitted to take the jobs available and the labor supply has been used to its best advantage."

MARKETS THURSDAY
Security exchanges continued to advance yesterday. New York regarded the Berlin situation as hopeful, but at the same time exercised pre-week-end caution, especially with the Labor Day holiday coming up Monday. In all, New York reached its highest level in five weeks, with the Associated Press 60-stock average adding 4 to reach 69.8, compared with an advance of 8 Wednesday.
Canadian exchanges shared in the advance, with Industrials doing best in Toronto and papers in Montreal. The recent gold advance was halted for a loss of nearly a point in the Toronto Exchange's index.
Grain markets were weak. New York cotton was 20 cents to $1.40 a bale lower.

Edmonton Man Head Of Bar Association
MONTREAL (CP)—Stanley Hardwood McCuaig, K.C., of Edmonton today was elected president of the Canadian Bar Association.
Succeeding John T. Hackett, K.C., of Montreal, Mr. McCuaig will be chairman at the 1949 convention of the association at Banff, Alta.
A member of the Canadian Bar Association for 23 years, Mr. McCuaig expressed the belief in an interview that the Supreme Court Act should be amended to provide that the court should hold sittings in one central point in western Canada and one in the Maritimes and that its jurisdiction should be extended.
He said he foresees the day when the Supreme Court "will be the court of last resort for Canada."

Cabinet Meets To Arrange Czech President's Funeral

PRAGUE (CP)—The cabinet today was called into special session for tomorrow to arrange the funeral of the late Eduard Benes. The former president of Czechoslovakia, who died today, was known to have expressed a wish that the actual burial should take place at Lany.

The bodies of President Masaryk and his family, including Jan Masaryk, are buried near Lany castle.

Communist Premier Antonin Zapotocky arranged a broadcast to the country. The Czechoslovak radio announced Benes' death before the regular evening broadcast, hymns and dirges then were played.
Dr. Benes was well known to Canadians. During his long wartime exile he visited Canada in June, 1943, and stayed at Government House as the guest of the then Governor-General, the Earl of Athol.

He addressed both houses of the Canadian Parliament, attended an official dinner given by the Canadian government, received the diplomatic corps, talked to members of the Czech forces stationed in Ottawa and visited an R.C.A.F. flying school.

FORESAW WAR
In announcing Benes' visit to the Canadian House of Commons, Prime Minister King recalled his prophecy of war made in November, 1938, in which the Czech President had said he believed war was inevitable adding: "I do not know when it will break out, possibly in a year, perhaps in two or three. I personally doubt whether it will take more than a year. The first to suffer will be Poland. . . France will suffer horribly. . . Hitler will attack all—in the west and even Russia—in the end America, too, will be in it."
Mr. King said of Benes: "He has a career of public service, that has been equaled by very few men in the world's history."
Benes, who devoted years to the liberation of his people, twice saw his beloved Czechoslovakia bow before totalitarian rule.
With the hero liberator Thomas Masaryk he presided at the founding of the Czechoslovak Republic, born out of the chaos of the First World War.

YEARS IN EXILE
Ten years ago Benes fought bitterly against the Pact of Munich, which gave his country over to the domination of Hitler. He resigned the presidency which he had assumed in 1935 after the defeat of Masaryk and went into exile in the United States, Britain and Russia rather than yield to the Germans. He returned from his long exile in 1945, heading the wobbly coalition government working through almost three years of the postwar era.
Exhausted from his labor, his health impaired, Benes watched the gathering storm late in 1947. The Communists were bracing themselves for a bid for power. The blow came early in 1948.
Anti-Communist ministers, attempting a showdown, offered President Benes their resignations, in the hope of preventing the Communists from gaining complete control of the police and army through their hold on the Ministry of Interior. The plan backfired.
For five days the Communists brought heavy pressure to bear on the frail President to accept the resignations and reform the government to the liking of Communist Premier Gottwald. Meanwhile, Communist action committees seized the ministries and other government functions. Communist-directed police closed headquarters of other parties.

'EVIL RESULTS'
On the sixth day of the crisis, Feb. 24, Benes bowed to the Communist demands and approved Gottwald's cabinet lineup. The President's friends said later he told them Gottwald

Bar Association Launches Survey Of Lawyers' Work
MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Bar Association today set up an eight-man committee to plan details for a legal survey throughout Canada.
Points to be considered are: Number of lawyers in each district; whether some districts are overworked and others below satisfactory legal representation.
Whether professional services by lawyers are at standard or below.
Study of fees charged.
Study of present systems of legal education.
Study of ethics of bar associations.
The association earmarked $50,000 for the survey.
Following a report by D. Park Jamieson of Sarnia, Ont., on the civil justice section, a resolution was approved providing that the question of abolition of appeals to the Privy Council in London be given provincial sub-committees for discussion. The sub-committees are to report back at the mid-winter meeting.
Walter S. Owen of Vancouver was elected chairman of the civil justice section and W. P. Gregory, Stratford, Ont., re-elected secretary.
J. A. Campbell of Vancouver was named chairman of a committee to deal with finances and collections to assist the bar in Britain. Many of England's libraries and records were destroyed or ruined in the blitz.

Stocks Work Into Lower Ground

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market slowly worked its way into lower price ground today. Declines were mostly fractional, few topping a point. A good handful edged into the plus column.

Trading started off briskly but soon slumped. Lower prices were more the result of an indifferent attitude among investors and speculators, rather than aggressive selling. Many brokers took off early for a long holiday week-end. Higher were United States Rubber, Caterpillar Tractor, Douglas Aircraft, Texas Pacific Land Trust, Western Union, American Can, Union Pacific, Standard Oil (N.J.) and Loew's. Canadian issues were higher. McIntyre and Hiram Walker dropped 1/4. Canadian Pacific and Dome Mines were unchanged. Distillers Seagrams eased 1/8.

Canadian Newsprint Stocks and United States Dollars

Never before has exported Canadian newsprint been more important to Canada's economy. Since over 80% of Canada's total production of newsprint goes to United States publishers (and their demand for it shows no sign of decreasing) the value of these exports in terms of United States dollars coming to Canada cannot be over-estimated.

Almost every Canadian Newsprint Company has been, and still is, working to capacity. For these reasons we believe the shares of Canadian Newsprint Companies merit the consideration of permanent investors and those inclined to take a trading position in them.

Facts about any Company will be sent upon request.

Market Irregular After Firm Start

MONTREAL (CP)—Stocks turned irregular after a firm start on the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market today.

Fractional gains in a firm paper list were posted by Bathurst, B.C. Forest, Powell River and St. Lawrence Corporation second preferred. International Paper declined a major fraction while M. & O. and Consolidated Paper were shaded.

Advances Recorded By All Groups

TORONTO (CP)—All groups marched ahead in another 1,000,000-share day on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrial strength slowly through the session on fractional gains and golds firmed in afternoon trading. Base metals faced ahead in active trading and western oils presented a solid front of gains.

Refining oils paced the industrial groupings on fractional advances in heavy trading and the steels and utilities edged upwards, federal grain common and preferred were strong in the agricultural grouping on new highs for the year and papers mixed gains and losses.

Golds firmed on narrow gains after starting on a weaker tone. Steels were mixed and gains ranging from 1 to 25 cents were scattered throughout the session.

Western oils followed the stronger tone in the refining oils, advancing on a solid front. Calgary and Edmonton, Home Oil, Okalta, Pacific Petroleum, Globe Oil and Anglo-American were among the better gainers.
